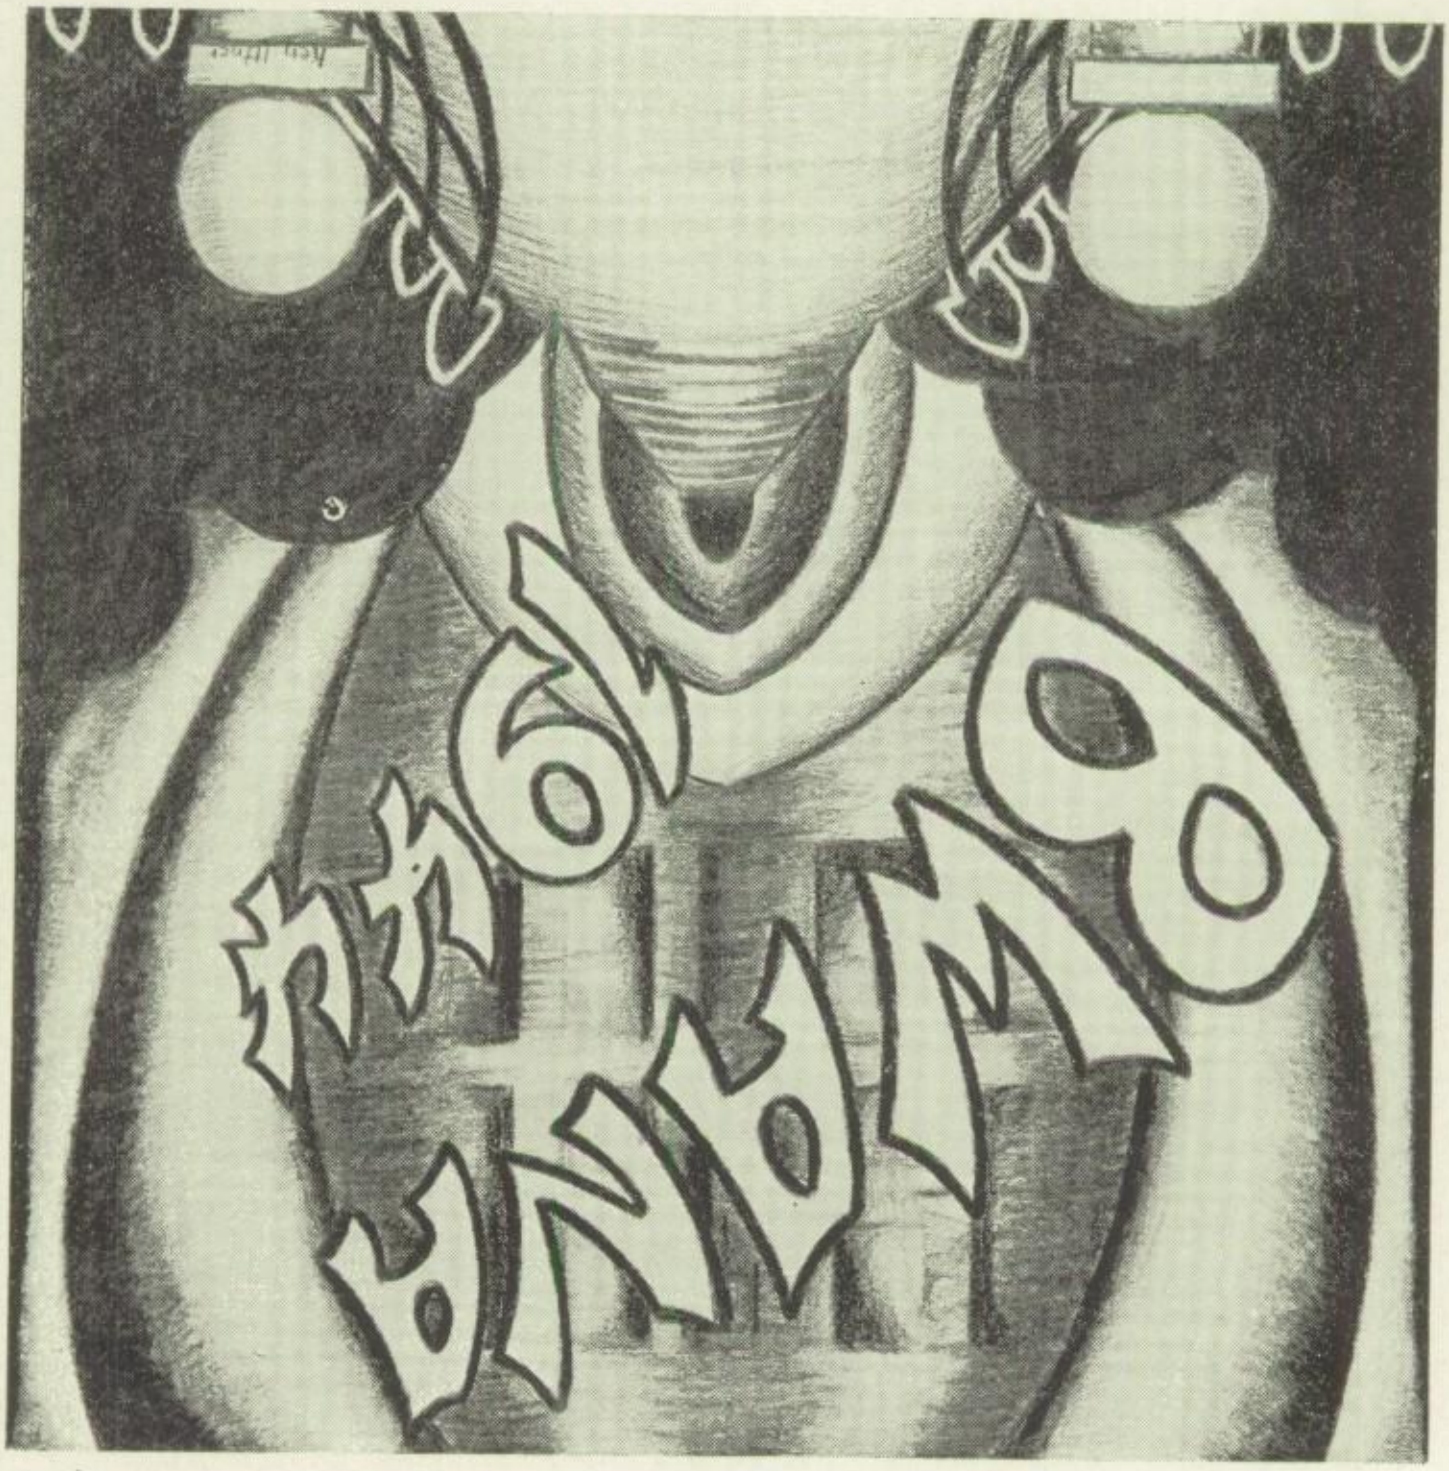
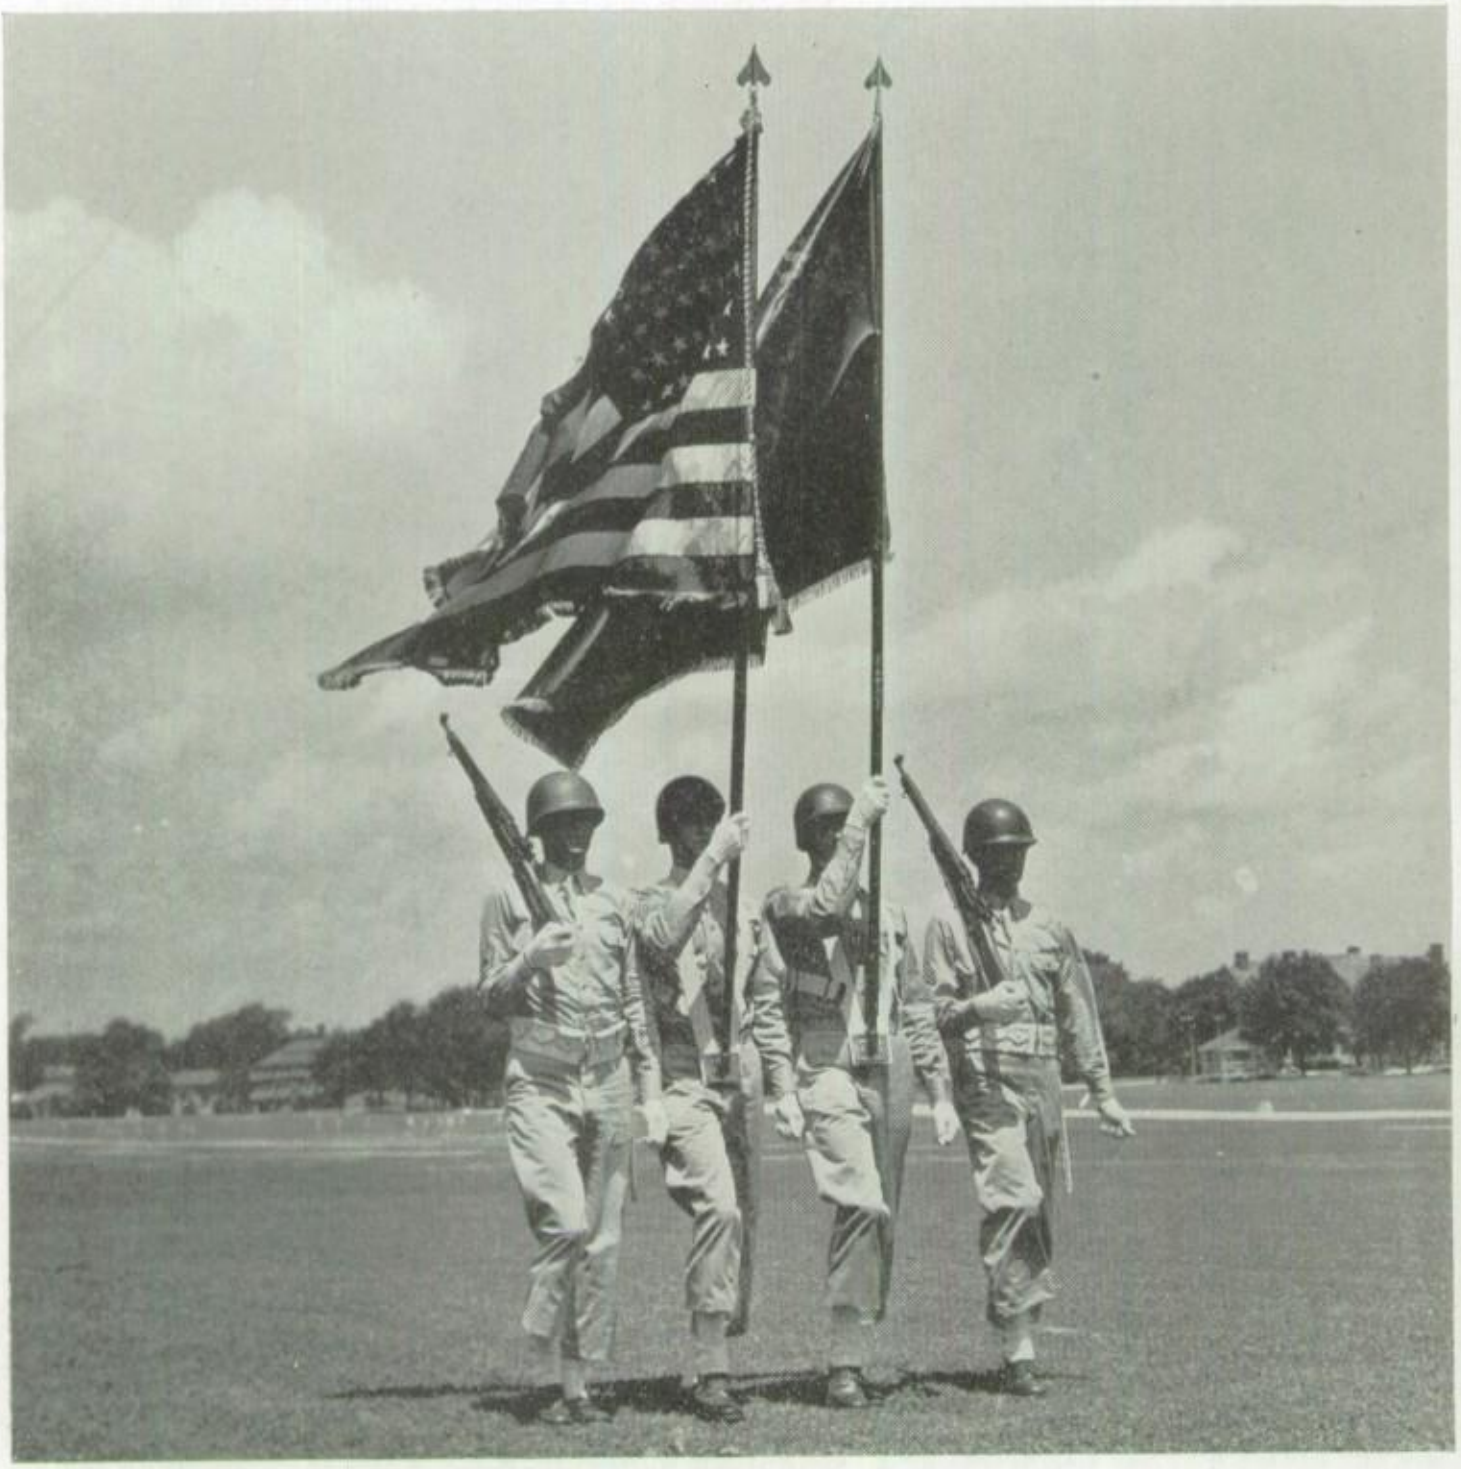
MEMORIES



PROJECT X



—Courtesy of Army Air Forces, Training Command, Jefferson Barracks.

I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands,
One nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.

Oh, say, does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream;

'Tis the Star-Spangled Banner, oh, long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

Oh, thus be it ever when free men shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation!
Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the heav'n-rescued land
Praise the Pow'r that hath made and preserved us a nation.
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: "In God is our trust."

And the Star-Spangled Banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!

—Francis Scott Key

BWANA

Moderators: Miss S. F. Lancaster, Miss L. B. Solfronk, Miss L. A. Nerud.

EDITORS

January to June, 1943	Sept., 1943, to Jan., 1944
Bob Wieselthier	Donald Katt
Beverly Lueders	Ruth Sartorius

In 1925, the first Bwana was published. Its purpose then, as it is now, was to remind one of his golden years here at Roosevelt, through the presentation of pictures of the organizations and of one's classmates.

The editors of Bwana are selected each term by the students. The staff is selected from pupils nominated by English teachers, or by members of the staff who vouch for their ability and willingness to work. The book is issued in January and is dedicated to the January and June classes of that year. It is eagerly awaited by the students, who are allowed time during classes to sign the yearbook.

The name "Bwana", literally, means "Great Chief". When Teddy Roosevelt was on an expedition in Africa, the natives referred to him as a great chief, because of his great skill and courage.

The Rough Rider has finished its thirty-eighth term with the largest subscription it has had in ten years. With the increased revenue, more photographs have been printed and cartoons have been revived. This term the Student Council, the War Activities Committee, the Seniors, Sevens, and Sixes, have chosen their own representatives on the Rough Rider staff to make the organization more democratic.

A large number of Rough Riders are mailed each week to Rooseveltians in the Service to show we have not forgotten them.

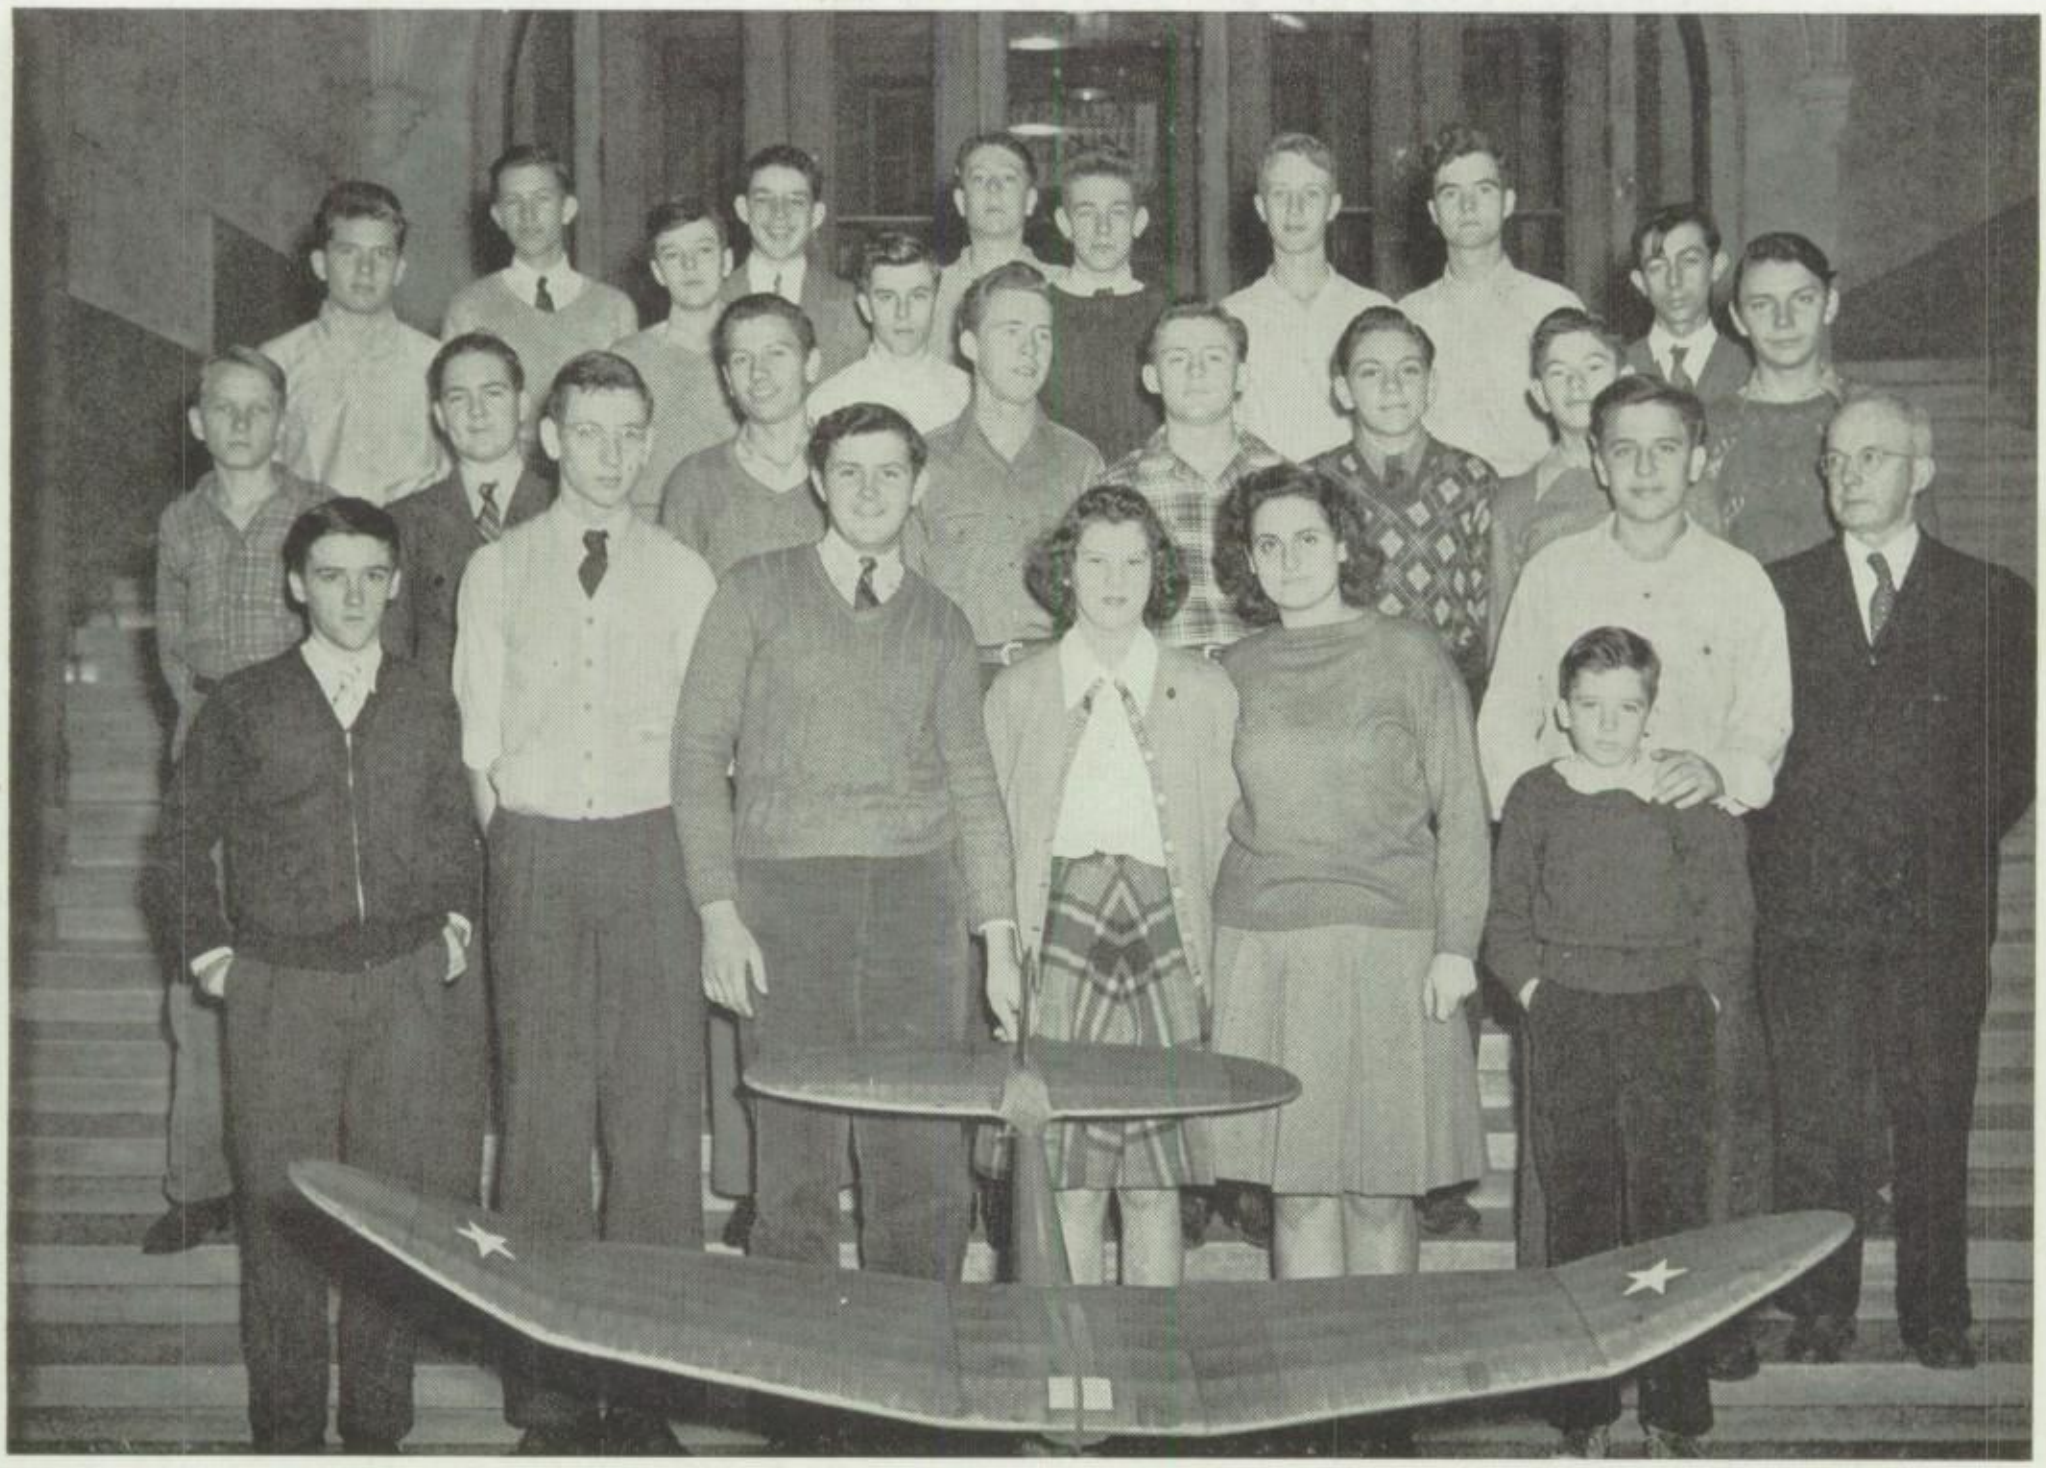
The Rough Rider is your paper and you can be a member of the staff if you wish. Reporters, feature writers, photographers, cartoonists, typists, and distributors, are needed each term and there are no comprehensive examinations necessary before obtaining a job. If you are interested, apply in the Rough Rider office, Room 224. You may have more talent than you realize; you may have even discovered a new joke.

"A" PERIOD CHOIR

Moderator: Miss Birdie Hilb

President:	Bob Hildebrand
Vice-President:	Mary Jeanne Hartson
Secretary:	Dorothy Davis
Treasurer:	Jean Huff

To serve the school and community by participating in singing in churches and for charitable and civic organizations is our purpose.



AERONAUTICS CLUB

Moderator: Mr. Biddick

OFFICERS

President:	Victor Kovacik
Vice-President:	William Shannon
Secretary:	Margaret Rumer
Treasurer:	Margaret Rumer

The Aeronautics Club was established in the fall of 1943. The purpose of the club as stated in its constitution is to stimulate an interest in aviation, to encourage model building, and to promote fellowship through a common interest in aeronautics. The club meets on Wednesday of each week and flies models at Hampton at Loughborough Sunday afternoons.

The aircraft built by the members are of all types: scale models, rubber-powered models, gas models, gliders, helicopters, and orithopters.

All students who are interested are cordially invited to visit the club meetings and become a part of this educational organization.

ART CLUB

Moderator: Miss Braun

OFFICERS

September, 1943, to January, 1944

President:	Betty Lay
Vice-President:	Mary Emily Bowers
Secretary:	Edith Moll
Treasurer:	Augustine DeBlaze

The Art Club is open to all students whether they are studying art or not.

Its purposes are to give opportunity for self-expression in any medium without help unless the student feels the need for it, and to foster an understanding of and appreciation for art objects and civic projects of particular art interest which they see about them.

This is done by working in the studio or outdoors and by visiting the Art Museum, churches, public buildings, parks where sculptures are placed, and other places having art interest.

JUNIOR BAND

OFFICERS

	Jan. to June, 1943	Sept., 1943, to Jan., 1944
President:	Ralph Jones	Bob Maurer

	Bob Collins	Charles Watson
"Keeper of the Peanut"	Eugene Winterman
Publicity:		Pat Stullken, Otto Womick
Drum Major:		Bob Conners
Drum Majorettes:		Mary Della Berger, Virginia Long, Ruth Drach

The Senior Band practices every morning during the first period. It has played for almost every auditorium session that has presented athletic activities or patriotic rallies. The band played at all of the fooball games. On Armistice Day we led the Roosevelt Girls' and Boys' Drill Corps in the Civic Parade.

Each year we have several social activities, such as hay rides and picnics.

FERDE GROFÉ CLASS

OFFICERS

President:	Byron Stevens
Secretary:	Jim Scalise
Treasurer:	Darleene Rigsby

Because of his exceptional ability as an arranger and composer of instrumental music, Ferde Grofé was chosen by this class as one of America's best representatives in portraying our way of life.

His greatest contributions are the "Grand Canyon Suite," "Tabloid," and his "Mississippi Suite."

It was Grofé who contributed not a little to the success of Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue."

Grofé's music may be heard almost every day over the radio.

MORTON GOULD CLASS

OFFICERS

September, 1943, to January, 1944

President:	Bob Pecoraro
Vice-President:	Adele Vaeth
Secretary:	Bill Dupree
Treasurer:	Earl Medlin
Librarian:	Alan Walters

The Morton Gould Class, which was organized this term, was so named in honor of Morton Gould, the American composer who began to compose at the age of four years, and graduated from New York University at fifteen years of age.

For a time he was on the staff of Radio City Music Hall, and later he was with the National Broadcasting Company. At present, he is conducting his own programs of special arrangements.

Some of his more serious compositions are "Chorale and Fugue in Jazz", "Foster Gallery" spirituals for orchestra, "A Cowboy Rhapsody", "Joshua", "Lincoln Legend," "Folk Suite," and "Pavanne."

BOYS' BOWLING

Moderator: Mr. Griggs

OFFICERS

	Jan. to June, 1943	Sept, 1943, to Jan., 1944
President:	Clifford Kruse	Wallace Geipel
Secretary:	Richard Ault	Floyd McKinney
Treasurer:	Wallace Geipel	Brader Zimmer

The purpose of the Boys' Bowling Club is to provide an opportunity for physical recreation. The club is organized on the same basis as are adult bowling leagues.

There are six teams which meet in competition in accordance with a prepared schedule. The games are played on Tuesday, after school, at the Gravois Bowling Alleys.

Originally the club membership included both boys and girls. Last year it was decided to divide the club into two parts, one for the boys and one for the girls. This seems to have had good results, as both clubs are getting along very well.

GIRLS' BOWLING

Moderator: E. Manheimer

OFFICERS

	Jan. to June, 1943	Sept., 1943, to Jan., 1944
President:	Eileen O'Lerry	Pat Cronin
Secretary:	Pat Cronin	Mary Canada
Assistant Secretary:	Rosemary Pechan	Elise Wilcutt
Treasurer:	Margaret Tucker	Jeanette Rammelsburg
Assistant Treasurer:	Elsie Wilcutt	Charlotte Folluo

For many years, the Girls' Bowling Club has been recognized as one of the most favorable sports organizations of Roosevelt High School. Recreation, physical development, and training in good sportsmanship have always been the guiding principles of the club. The increasing demand for membership shows that bowling has decidedly risen in popularity among the students.

Bowling is a sport which improves the mind as well as the body. In bowling the true American spirit is revealed, especially when the season is drawing to a close. Although a matter of one point can decide the championship, each team, each teammate, is so closely united in skill and endeavor that her fighting spirit is never lost, regardless of the winning team.

CAROL CLUB

President:	June Stengle
Vice-President:	Mary Jeanne Hartson
Secretary:	Martha Huff
Treasurer:	Betty Chipley

Lots of Luck + Love Vida Scheffler

To serve the community and school and promote an appreciation for auditorium performances of artistic music is our purpose.

CHESS CLUB

Moderator: Mr. Bock

OFFICERS

	Jan. to June, 1943	Sept., 1943, to Jan., 1944
President:	Eugene Gladstone	David Edwards
Vice-President:	Jack Ludwig	Eugene Gladstone
Secretary:	Harold Dixon	Eugene Brucker
Treasurer:	David Edwards	Verna Wodtke
Librarian:	Charles Geisel	June Loyd
Assistant Librarian:	Carl Danzer	Arthur Kruse

If you want a game which will give you excitement and enjoyment, plus a mental workout, try chess. With these aims in mind, and also to provide intellectual education, the Roosevelt Camelot and Chess Club was organized in 1929, and is still going strong. During this time, the club has produced players who have ranked high in city, state, and national chess tournaments.

At the beginning of the school year, the time is spent mostly in teaching new members to play chess, and selecting members for Roosevelt High School Chess Team. Chess teams of other schools are then played in inter-scholastic competition.

Chess is a very ancient game, and probably had its origin in India. The game has been described as both an art and a science. Actually, it is a contest in which the brains and skill of one person are pitted against those of another.

MATHEMATICS CLUB

Moderator: Mr. Grossman

OFFICERS

January to June, 1943

President:	Otto Thiele
Vice-President:	Robert Doenges
Secretary:	Robert Lutz

The purpose of the club is to take up topics of an interesting nature not in textbooks. This is done by the moderator or by some pupil.

COLLEGE CLUB

Moderator: Miss M. Dockery

OFFICERS

	Jan. to. June, 1943	Sept., 1943, to Jan., 1944
President:	Jane Berndt	Rosemary Eisenmenger
Vice-President	Rosemary Eisenmenger	Joyce Woodney
Recording Secretary:	Mary Ann Miller	Wilma Dees
Corresponding Secretary:	Joyce Woodney	Ruth Sartorius
Treasurer:	Wilma Dees	Patricia Pfeiffer
Sergeant-at-Arms:	Marjorie Haile	Mary Ann Miller

The College Club is a literary society limited in membership to one hundred girls. Through the activities of the club every effort is made to furnish opportunity for the development and expression of individual talent, especially in the literary field. The organization aims to build up a cultural background for its members by introducing to them literary masterpieces and their authors. It endeavors also to cultivate in those participating in club programs poise in the presence of an audience. Committee work and program planning for the meeting encourage initiative and executive power.

GIRLS' SWIMMING CLUB

Moderator: Miss V. Schmidt

OFFICERS

	Jan. to June, 1943	Sept., 1943, to Jan., 1944
President:	Ruby Riddle	Margaret Westerman
Vice-President:	Margaret Westerman	Mildred Mueller
Secretary-Treasurer:	Barbara Speicher	Dolores Whelan

The purpose of this club is mainly to acquire skill and grace in swimming.

GLEE CLUB

Moderator: Miss Birdie Hilb

President:	Le Roy Echart
Secretary:	Tom Hooss
Treasurer:	Herbert Schwartz

To sing popular and semi-popular music with skill and precision for entertainment is the purpose of this club.

ICE SKATING CLUB

Moderator: Miss Slattery

OFFICERS

	Jan. to June, 1943	Sept., 1943, to Jan., 1944
President:	Evelyn Krey	Charlotte Kolk
Vice-President:	Lillian Mueller	Mildred Mueller
Secretary:	Charlotte Kolk	Jean Perry
Treasurer:	Darline Speichinger	Dolores Hawkins

The Ice Skating Club was organized so that we might enjoy, with our friends, one of the most invigorating of winter sports.

The club meets every other Friday at the Winter Garden where we are given a special rate on the regular price of admission. All a member must do to get this rate is to present a card at the ticket window specifying he is a member of the club and the Winter Garden will honor it.

Members look forward to each Friday, because then we have an enjoyable time, getting acquainted with many new friends, and at the same time, learning the art of ice skating. If you're interested in skating or in learning how to skate, we invite you to join our club.

JUNIOR ORCHESTRA

OFFICERS

	Jan. to June, 1943	Sept., 1943, to Jan., 1944
President:	Hans Engelke	Edward Verstraete
Vice-President:	Lee Sutliffe	Joseph Merta
Secretary:	Harriet Kolocotroni	Alice Young
Treasurer:		Bob Wamack
Librarian:	James Noble	Hubert Strickland June Edwards Robert Fletcher
Property Custodian:	Paul Rey	John Coste
Keeper of the Peanut:		John Coste

The finest musical effects can be produced only with a good orchestra. Playing in tune, blending tones in perfect harmony, melody line and phrasing, and knowledge of all rhythmic patterns are fundamentals necessary to play in an orchestra.

Skills and the development of ensemble playing should begin as early as possible. Musical coordination and good habits are accomplished easily during the growing period.

JUNIOR RED CROSS CLUB

Moderator: Miss Fruin

OFFICERS

Sept., 1943, to Jan., 1944

President:	Grace Yesley
Vice-President:	Vercile Schmidt
Secretary:	Anna Mae Hildebrand
Treasurer:	Jean Stevens

The Junior Red Cross Club at Roosevelt High School was organized in October, 1941, under the supervision of Miss Fruin. The purpose of the club is to give relief and help wherever it is needed.

In the past year and a half we have done much to make life more comfortable for the men of our armed forces by making property bags, ice-bag covers, and other articles for their use and comfort. We have cheered soldiers of World War I at the Veterans' Hospital by sending greeting cards at Christmas and Easter. Last Christmas we filled boxes with gifts for the needy children of faraway lands.

This year we have begun making wash cloths for the men in the armed forces.

There are several clubs and groups about school all working for the same purpose and cheerfully doing their share.

KNIT WITS

Moderator: Miss Binnington

OFFICERS

	Jan. to. June, 1943	Sept., 1943, to Jan., 1944
President:	Charlotte Tachman	Rosemarie Kalicak
Vice-President:	Mary Davidson	Bernice Barnaby
Secretary:	Audrey Burns	Jane Pracchia
Treasurer:	Alice Hofner	June Reichenbacher

Knit Wits was organized many years ago by a few girls who wanted to knit and to teach others to knit for their own use. As the years went by, more girls became interested in the club. When World War II broke out the enrollment in this club increased and all the knitting was turned out for the Red Cross. We are proud to say that the girls have knitted army sweaters, scarfs, gloves, layettes, little boys' suits, and afghans. The club holds a regular knitting meeting every week. In addition to these meetings there are social meetings such as picnics and hikes. These are planned and managed by the members of the Social Committee who are appointed for this phase of the club activities. The dues of the club are small.

THE LUNCH ROOM SERVICE

Most of the pupils of Roosevelt High School eat their lunch at school in our school cafeteria. That sounds simple enough—and is.

Lunch checks are purchased for five cents each before school at the lunch check windows. When the bell rings for the lunch period to begin, everyone races down to the lunchroom, deposits his books on the shelves, and hurries to the food counter. The average pupil takes his plate of food and lays down her lunch check to pay for it, but very few people ever notice those who have sold them their checks or who have put the dishes of food on the counter for them, or who have collected that check.

Someone must do this work, so a group of Roosevelt pupils organized by Miss Flanigan are the ones who do it. They are excused three minutes early from their third period class so that they may wash their hands, don hair nets, and be behind the counter before the bell rings.

The members of the lunch room staff who work behind the counters or as guards among the tables enjoy doing their work.

NORMA UNDERWOOD

PEPETTES

Moderator: Miss Schnaedelbach

OFFICERS

	Jan. to June, 1943	Sept., 1943, to Jan., 1944
Pep R President of Pepettes:	Mary Lou Kessler	Shirley Eckles
President:	Jackie Gourley	Carol Neusitz
Secretary:	Edith Muetze	Ruth St. Dennis
Treasurer:	Doris Herald	Mary Long

The first meeting of Pepettes was held on March, 1941, when this club was organized by the Pep R girls for the purpose of acquainting the lower term girls with the sports activities of the school.

"Pepettes" teaches and encourages younger pupils to take an interest in all the activities that are going on at school.

After the Pepettes have earned the required points by going to all these activities, Pep R votes on them after careful consideration of personality, cooperation, and pep.

The purpose of organizing this club was to give the girls in Roosevelt an opportunity to attain membership to Pep R.

PEP R

Moderator: Miss Schnaedelbach

OFFICERS

	Jan. to June, 1943	Sept., 1943, to Jan., 1944
President:	Gerry Hoffman	Clara Ruester
Vice-President:	Ruth Neuhoff	Beverly Barntraeger
Secretary:	Joy Malone	Ruth Mann
Treasurer:	Miriam Grafe	Mary Lou Kessler
Point Chairman:	Ruth Mann	Jeanette Rammelsburg

Sixteen years ago the "Pep R" Club was organized by a group of girls to arouse school spirit, to support the teams, and to back all other school activities.

The club became so popular it became necessary to limit the membership to fifty members chosen from the school at large.

In due time, later a junior club, "Pepettes", was formed for the purpose of filling vacancies in the "Pep R" Club. These girls are chosen for their cooperation, personality, spirit, and for the number of points won as "Pepette" members.

PHOTOPLAY APPRECIATION

Moderator: Miss Margaret V. Maloney

OFFICERS

	Jan. to June, 1943	Sept., 1943, to Jan., 1944
President:	Mary Ruzicka	Alma Barr
Vice-President:	Billie Joyner	Beverley Koziboski
Secretary:	Evelyn Wohlstadter	Adele Mohn
Treasurer:	Mildred Ehlen	Evelyn Martindell

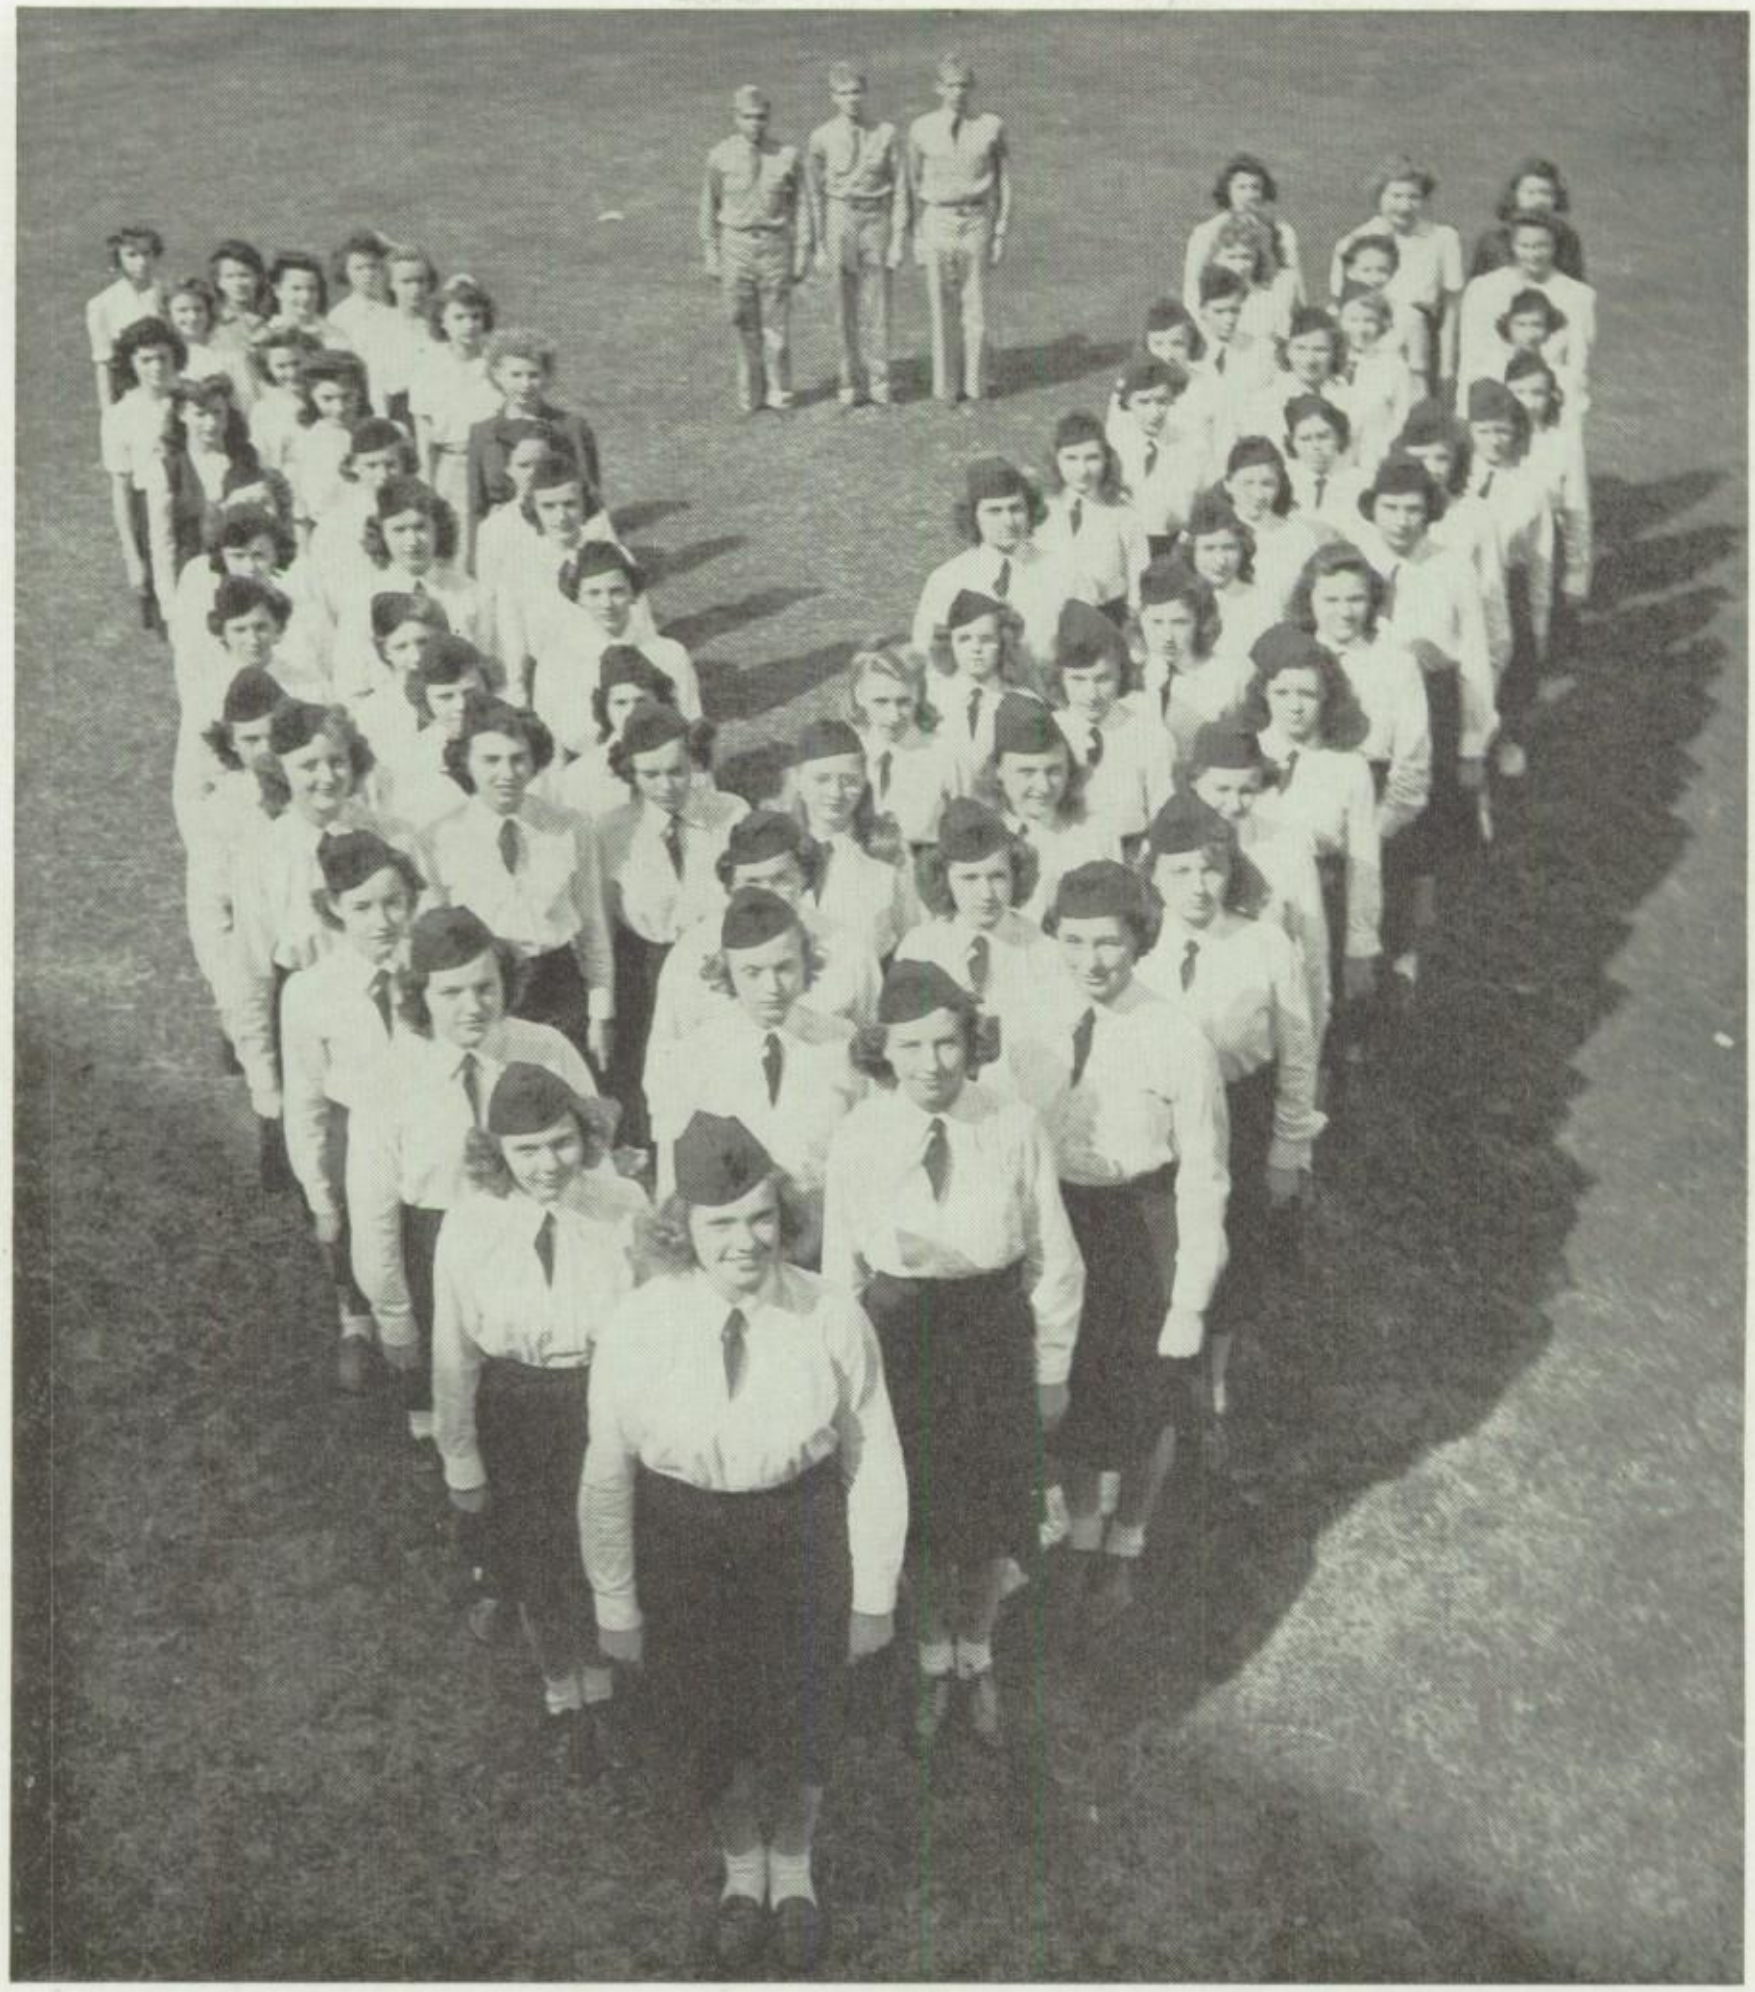
Today all our thinking and activity is influenced by the war. The Photoplay Appreciation Club still aims to develop a taste for beauty and artistry in motion pictures. For the duration we have joined with the Junior Red Cross in carrying on war work. Last term the club made card table covers and this term they will make bedside table covers and wash cloths.

ROOSEVELT PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

OFFICERS

President:	Mrs. Geo. F. Altman
First Vice-President:	Mrs. Paul Thornton
Second Vice-President:	Mrs. E. Schaefering
Recording Secretary:	Mrs. E. M. Staisch
Corresponding Secretary:	Mrs. E. R. Schafermeyer
Assistant Corresponding Secretary:	Mrs. H. Hlavsa
Treasurer:	Mrs. Erwin Schmidt
Historian:	Mrs. Roy Hildebrand

The Roosevelt High School Parent-Teacher Association is an organization numbering two hundred twenty-eight mothers, fathers, and teachers of students in the school. It meets at a quarter after one on the afternoon of the fourth Friday except during November and December, when it meets the third Thursday. Four night meetings are held: on the second Wednesday of October, December, February, and April at eight o'clock. These meetings have programs of inspirational and educational value with speakers well known in their fields of endeavor.



R. A. E. S.

Moderator: Miss Haeseler

The Roosevelt Auxiliary Emergency Service, known to Rooseveltians as the R. A. E. S., is one of the school's newest clubs. It was organized late last semester and since that time has already participated in a number of activities and is looking forward to many more. As the name implies, it is a group organized to give help where help is needed.

The R. A. E. S. is Roosevelt's answer to the W. A. C.'s. They meet every Tuesday after school for regular drill. On Wednesday the non-commissioned officers attend "non-coms'" school for advanced training.

As yet, this organization does not have commissioned officers but plans are being made to install them before the new year.

Not all of this activity could not have been possible if certain R. O. T. C. officers had not been willing to give freely of their time and energy. The R. A. E. S. wish to thank them for this valuable instruction and advice.

Non-Commissioned Officers of R. A. E. S. at Roosevelt are:

First Sergeant:	Irma McKenna
Sergeant:	Charlotte Gammeter
Sergeant:	Narice Lloyd
Sergeant:	Martha Ryder
Sergeant:	Ruth Thorpe
Corporal:	Jacqueline Egner
Corporal:	Jane Pracchia
Corporal:	Dorothy Rice
Corporal:	Rose Robbin
Corporal:	Elizabeth Shmagranoff

R. O. T. C.

Moderator: Mr. Walther Lorenzen

OFFICERS

	Jan. to June, 1943	Sept., 1943, to Jan., 1944
Captain:	E. Lipschitz	D. Overbey
First Lieutenant:	H. Reed	H. Reed
Second Lieutenant	D. Overbey	R. Haldiman
Second Lieutenant	W. Dillon	J. Snyder
Second Lieutenant	R. Haldiman	G. Snyder
Second Lieutenant		P. Simonds
Second Lieutenant		D. Ford

The Roosevelt R. O. T. C. (Reserve Officer Training Corps) was organized January 14, 1942, by Washington University Officers with the cooperation of Mr. Lorenzen, the sponsor. The purpose of the organization is to prepare the students for the day when they will enter the Nation's armed forces. The Cadets meet every Monday and Thursday after school for the purpose of taking military science.

The R. O. T. C. takes part in many activities at Roosevelt. These include raising the flag, acting as air raid monitors, and taking part in many auditorium sessions.

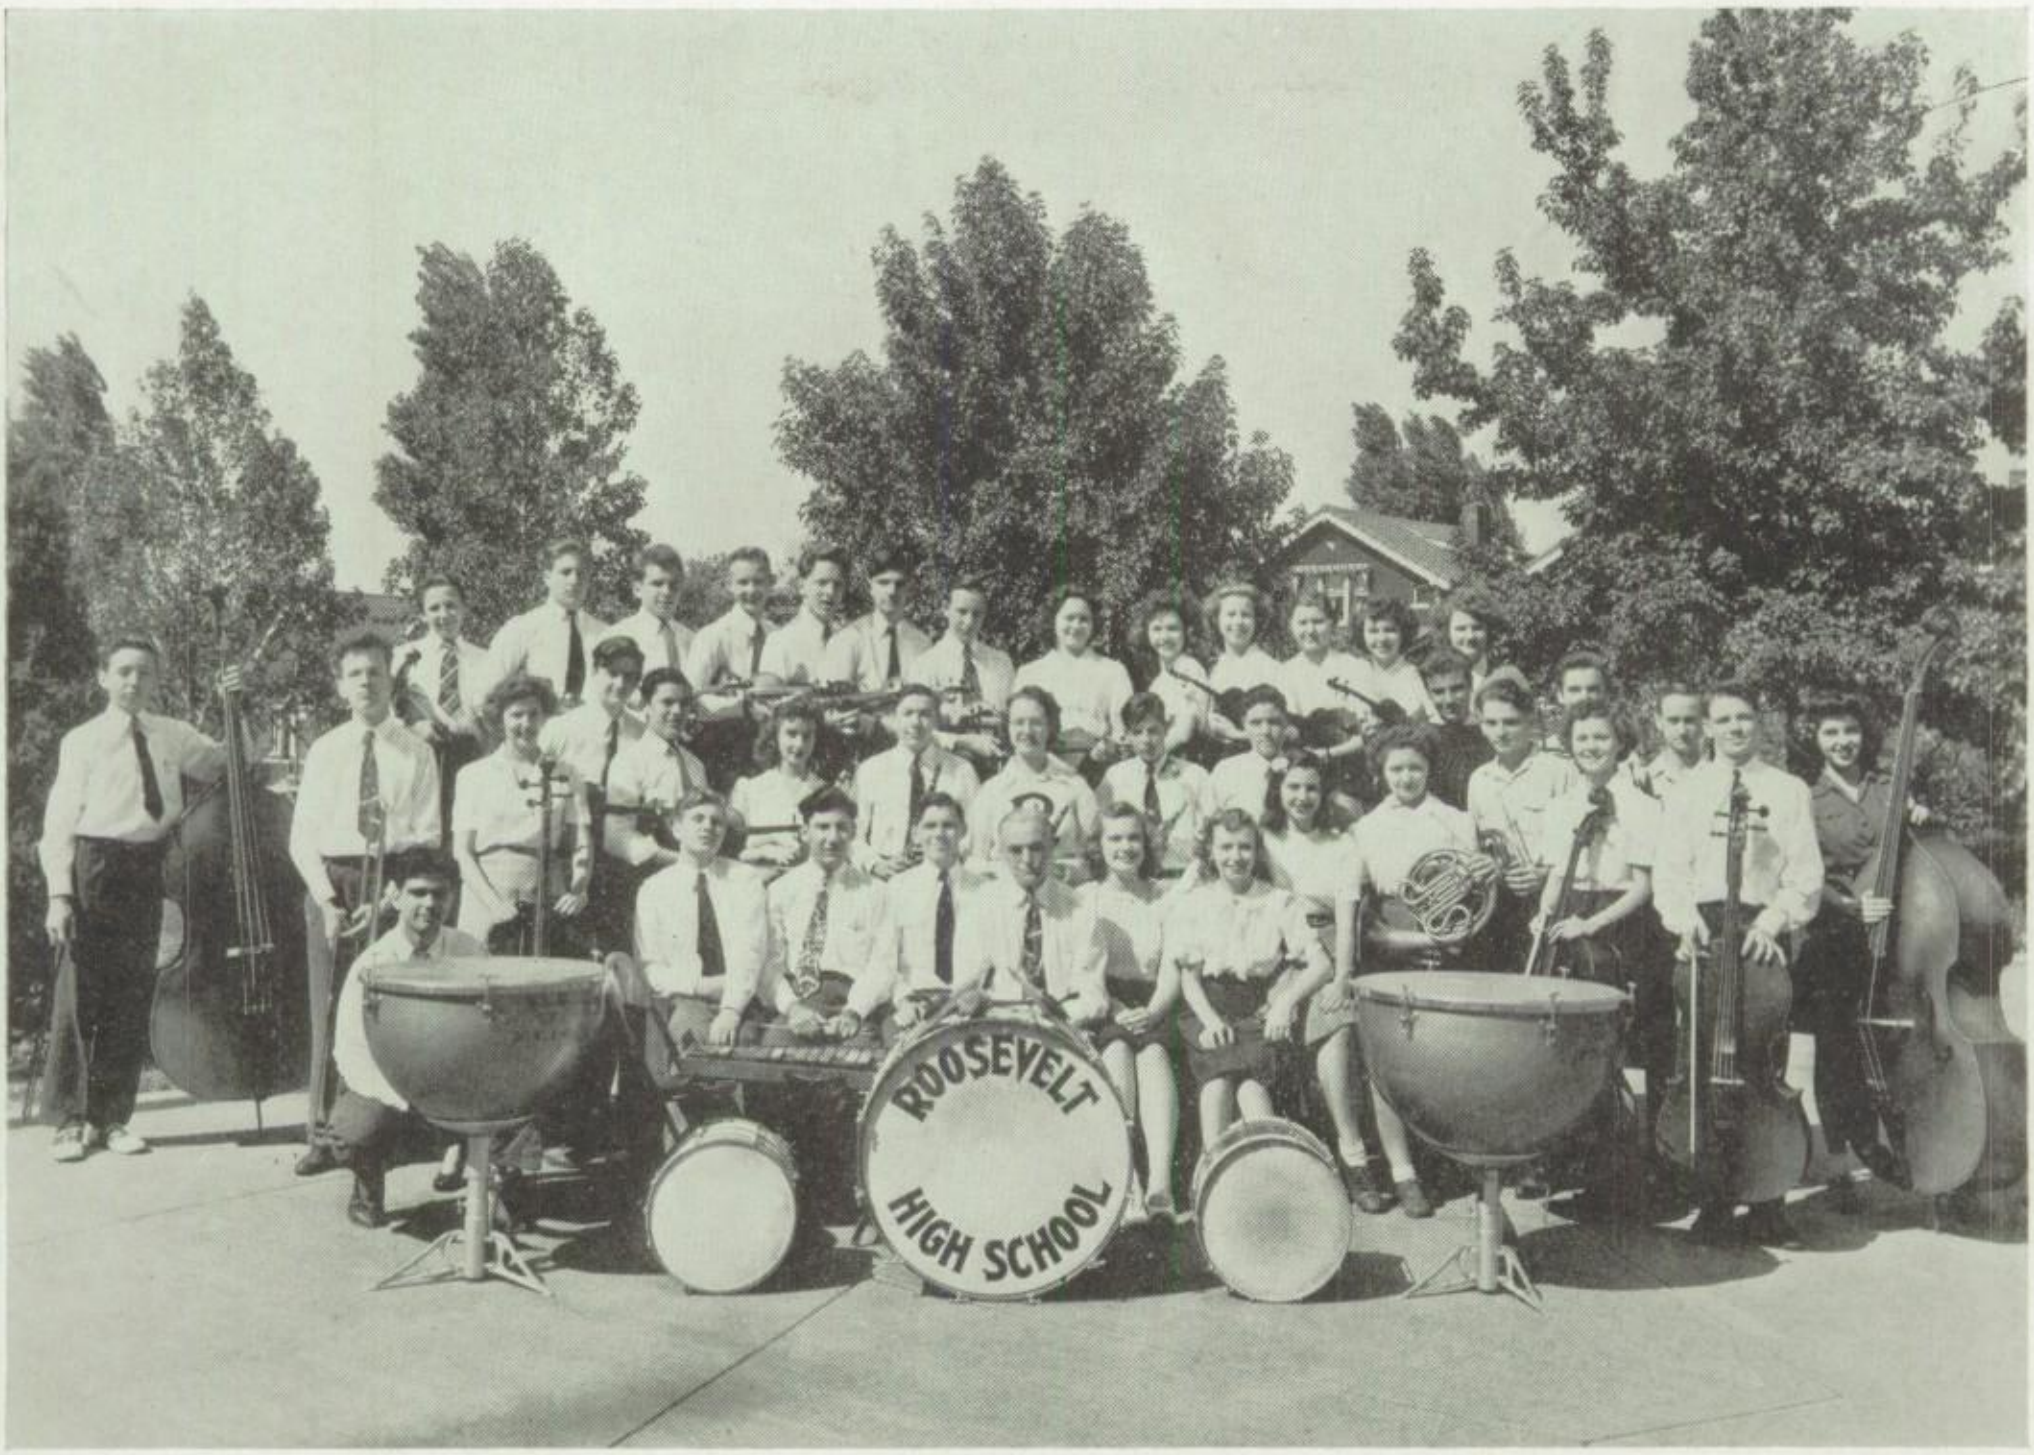
SERVICE GROUP

Are you active and helpful in the school? The moderator of the Service Bureau, Mr. Griggs, calls for service volunteers at the beginning of each term. Service is needed all over the school. Service points are open to Student Council representatives, the mayor, members of committees, and other activities of the school, as well as pupils who work in the office, supply room, doctor's office, library, halls, doors, and gates. All of you can probably name numerous other ways or places to receive points.

A full credit is given for working one period each week for one term; however, the teacher or moderator gives the person as much credit as he or she deserves. These points are recorded each term and filed in the office of the Service Bureau. When a pupil receives fifteen credits, a "Service R" is awarded. If a person is successful enough to receive four "Service R's", a Service Pin is presented to the worker.

Service points can be earned before or after school, as well as during school. Many people find enjoyment and make many friends through service by working for the school.

RUTH SARTORIUS



SENIOR ORCHESTRA

Moderator: Mr. Eugene Hahnel

OFFICERS

	Jan. to June, 1943	Sept., 1943, to Jan., 1944
President:	Dennis Wehmueller	Donald Sparks
Vice-President:	Patricia Kelly	Loretta Johnson
Secretary:	Irma McKenna	Irma McKenna
Treasurer:	Warren Sparks	Estelle Krummel
Librarian:	Isaac Young	Joyce Woodney

Property Manager:	James Faeth
Property Committee:		Don Smith, James Faeth, Robert Darr
Publicity Director:		Dolores Catsigianis
Keeper of the Peanut:	Floyd Yockey

Every student at Roosevelt knows the value of the Senior Orchestra, for whenever music is needed for a school performance, such as the operetta, this organization is always ready to help. Graduation exercises would not be complete without it.

Members of this organization derive pleasure and inspiration from good music. They are taught the genuine value of music, whether it be compositions by such immortals as Brahms, Beethoven, Bach, Dvorak, Greig, or by the modern composers. In addition to musical training, other factors necessary in the early training for life such as good habits, concentration, cooperation, discipline, and patience are developed almost unconsciously.

COLE PORTER CLASS

OFFICERS

September, 1943, to January, 1944

President:	Robert Newsom
Vice-President:	Regina Tourville
Secretary:	Le Una Houchin
Treasurer:	Wesley Schmitzmeyer
Librarians:	Patsy Sayres, Zoe Woodney

We named our class to honor Cole Porter who represents a truly American type in his musical numbers.

Cole Porter is "essentially a writer of production numbers," which means songs fitting a definite situation in a musical show. His songs are either slow, exotic, langorous, or of strongly sentimental character.

We also enjoy the music of other contemporary composers, as Gershwin, Kern, Youmons and many others.

Cole Porter class members are buying records to donate to the school.

Sergeant-at-Arms:	Martha Ryder	Martha Ryder

EL CLUB ESPAÑOL

Buenos Diás, fellow Rough Riders. Have you ever been to the Spanish Club? If not, you certainly have missed a good time.

The purpose of the Spanish Club is to acquaint the members with Spanish countries and customs, to foster an interest in them, and to cultivate a better appreciation of oral Spanish.

We have many interesting programs at our meetings, such as dialogues, playlets, games, speeches, musical numbers, and sketches of famous people. A fiesta is given at which Spanish games are played. Often we have a piñata and sometimes an entertainment in the auditorium.

The Spanish Club is very much interested in Pan-American relations and the good will of our neighboring South and Central American countries. This term we are corresponding with pupils of high schools in Lima, Peru. We realize the importance of becoming better acquainted with the other Americans.

All persons who are taking Spanish and who are interested in the club are invited to attend the meetings which are held on A Wednesdays in Room 324. Come and see if the club merits your membership.

STUDENT COUNCIL

"To promote a means for student participation in the school government, to develop good citizenship, to stimulate student activity, and to promote the general welfare of Roosevelt High School"—these purposes as set forth in the constitution of the Roosevelt High School Student Council, serve to direct this assembly in its guidance of the activities of all students.

The membership of this governing body is composed of representatives duly elected by the students in each advisory group. This representative transmits to the Council the desires of his advisory and promotes action which, in his opinion, will benefit his group and the student body in general.

The Mayor, or President of Student Council, is elected by the students from candidates who have been nominated by the school at large. Chairmen of standing committees are similarly elected, and name the members of their respective committees. All other officers are chosen by Council. Under the able guidance of its sponsor, Miss Ewers, the Student Council operates smoothly and efficiently.

To gain a greater insight into the problems and function of other student governments, delegates attend meetings of the City-Wide Student Council, which is composed of representatives from all St. Louis Public High School student assemblies.

BOB WIESELTHIER

VICTORY GARDEN CLUB

Moderator: Miss Helen C. Whitelaw

OFFICERS

September, 1943, to January, 1944

President:	George Millinger
Vice-President:	Bob Easterday
Secretary:	Marvin Mueller
Treasurer:	Richard Newman

The chief purpose of the Victory Garden Club is to aid the war effort by: first, stimulating interest in gardening; second, instructing the members how to produce food in their back yards or in vacant lots.

Stimulating the natural love for growing things and directing it so that a useful and wholesome hobby may be established is also an aim.

Furthermore, the club plans to perform some service to the school at various times as it did last year by buying and distributing seed. Speakers may be available for this purpose in the future.

The programs are very practical ones. In the late winter and early spring, there are discussions on preparation of the ground, making of seed beds, selecting and planting of seed, irrigating, cultivation, spraying, and other garden projects.

In the fall, the care of the garden for winter and spring is taken up. Insect pests and their destruction are also discussed. Birds, too, contribute a most important subject for study in winter programs.

The materials used are newspaper clippings, agricultural bulletins, garden encyclopedias, magazines and practical experiences such as failures and successes in our own Victory Gardens. Motion pictures, also, are used.

VISUAL EDUCATION

The organization of motion picture machine operators at Roosevelt is no longer in the formative stage, but is truly an efficient and very important part of the system of teaching. The amount of work handled during the past year has doubled, but the operators carry on as ever, due largely to the very efficient direction and organization of Miss Cutter.

The visual education group has been cooperating with the war effort by showing many of the government films to the various classes. It has also cooperated with the educational museum in reviewing films to determine whether or not they are worth buying for the museum's film library.

In addition to the programs regularly presented to classes, the group handled the showing of films to the weekly assemblies of Freshmen. There have also been showings before and after school for the students in general. On Thursday, March 25, the group presented a paid admission show after school in the auditorium. The program consisted of "The Magic Bean", a comedy; "Sports Spellbinders"; and "Melody for Three", a Dr. Christian film. The response was gratifying, and all who attended enjoyed the pictures.

THEY HELP UNCLE SAM SELL WAR STAMPS AND BONDS

Have you ever peeked into the Bank Office in Room 317? Did you ever notice students in there working like beavers? Well, that's the War Stamp and Bond Staff, an important organization at Roosevelt. These glorious "gremlins" give all their spare time to help Uncle Sam. The director, Mr. Forsman, carefully supervises their work. And . . . we do mean work!

Tuesday starts the week with a bang! Stamp envelopes are carefully checked to detect any possible mistakes. Plenty of them? You said it!

Running down errors in stamp and bond orders, counting out the stamps, keeping the records, trips to the bank, and delivering the stamps and bonds round out the week's work of this efficient organization.

Here they are: Lois Arkebaur, Mildred Bartosz, Norma Basse, Antoinette Berta, Patricia Cronin, Robert Gessert, Henry Giesenbier, Bob Hall, Dolores Hawkins, Donald Katt, Edna Kelly, Elsie Kelly, Stanley Kolaski, Rose Marie Pollman, Raymond Samuels, Rosemarie Temmen, Otto Thiele, Lola Wallis, and Bob Wieselthier.

THE COACHING STAFF

The coaching staff has undergone many changes since the past season. However, the staff composed of veterans in each field of athletics is capably guiding and instructing the respective teams.

The transfer of Mr. Castleman has necessitated the selection of a new track coach. Mr. Clay Van Reen, an experienced trackman, has been appointed. Mr. Kuntz will continue as midget instructor.

Mr. Chauncy Linhart has succeeded Coach Meinhart as swimming coach since Mr. Meinhart has been commissioned a Lieutenant (J. G.) in the U. S. Navy.

The Rough Rider football squad will be coached, as in the past, by Otto Rost, himself a brilliant gridiron star. Coach Rost will be aided by Mr. Van Reen. The "B" team is under the guidance of Mr. Kuntz. The basketball team will also be coached by Coach Rost, assisted by Coach Van Reen of the "B" squad.

As in the past, baseball is now coached by Mr. Lee Carlson; Mr. Walther Lorenzen will continue his duties as tennis coach; and golf will be under the direction of Mr. Hochmeister.

Mr. Neeb, known to Roosevelt as the "General", remains head of the Athletic Department.

Under the able guidance of so excellent a coaching staff, Roosevelt cannot fail to remain "tops" in the field of athletics.

SWIMMING

The Rough Rider swimming squad, under its new coach, Mr. Meinhardt, wound up a successful season on Saturday, February 27, at Wilson Pool by bringing home to Roosevelt the Missouri State Swimming Championship.

The Rider paddlers reversed their field this year by winning the State Championship and coming in second in the Public High Swim Meet. The Rooseveltians lost the Public High title by a two-point margin to Soldan. They won the State Championship by a one-point margin, making 24 points, nosing out Principia and Cleveland, and tied for second place with 23 points.

Coach Meinhardt comes in for very great praise for his hard work in bringing to Roosevelt trophies for the winning of the State Championship, for winning all of the Public High School dual meets, and for winning the Washington Relays earlier in the season.

We also wish all the luck in the world to Captain Bill Moehlenbreck, of the '44 squad, as well as to Bob Carroll, Lew Turner, Jack Nolte, Bob Kraehe, Bob Maurer, Fred Potthoff, John Cavanaugh, Don Fleming, Don Traub, and Bill Kleyboecker, all swimmers who will return next year to bring additional honors to Roosevelt.

Congratulations to the following fellows, all of whom won their swimming R's this season: Bill Moehlenbrock, Lew Turner, Bob Carroll, Rial Rolfe, Hank Grich, Bob Maurer, Howard Hartman, Bob Kraehe, John Cavanaugh, Fred Potthoff, Don Fleming, and Manager Bill Rice.

Results of Missouri State Swim Meet:

50-yard free style—Rolfe, first; Time, 26.2.

220-yard free style—Rolfe, second; Maurer, fourth.

150-yard medley relay—Turner, Kraehe, Potthoff, fourth.

220-yard medley relay—Grich, Hartman, Maurer, Carroll, first; time, 1.50.

SWIMMING TEAM

This year we are fortunate in having Mr. Linhart coaching the swimming team. Mr. Linhart came to Roosevelt to replace Mr. Meinhardt, last year's swimming coach.

The boys have been training for the Washington Relay, which is to take place some time this term. Workouts are given to the boys according to their age, term, and physical condition. The workouts are increased as the boy advances, and proficiency is purely a matter of endurance and speed.

Contrary to their belief, Freshmen boys are wanted for the swimming team; they are encouraged to try out for it. Mr. Linhart believes in training the boys early. "The earlier they start, the better swimmers they make," says the coach. "Boys do not 'burn out,' but, like good professional swimmers, only grow stronger and more capable with practice." Mr. Linhart favors having a Freshman Team; however, no definite plans have been made for this. He wants as many boys as the pool can accommodate.

Mr. Linhart compared the swimming team with the track team. I was surprised at the comparison, never stopping to think how similar they actually are. The swimming team holds "long distance" runs the same as the track team does. Likewise, there are "endurance tests, and relays". The workouts and activities are very similar.

The most troublesome factor to be encountered seems to be that many of the boys work after school and cannot attend all the practices. Private pools, however, afford excellent opportunity for practice at night and other times when the boys may not be working.

With help from the Rough Riders, we have a possibility of winning the various championships in which we are to compete.

ROBERT EAST

BASEBALL, 1943

As the baseball season rolled into view, Coach Carlson found himself confronted with the enormous task of building a team with only two returning lettermen as a nucleus.

The first league game was played with Central, and resulted in a 4-3 victory for the Roosevelt Rough Riders. The results of the other games were:

Beaumont	6	Roosevelt	2
Blewett	3	Roosevelt	2
Southwest	2	Roosevelt	1
Cleveland	1	Roosevelt	0
Soldan	8	Roosevelt	6
McKinley	4	Roosevelt	3

In the league standing, we were tied with the Soldan Tigers for the last place. The coach and the team deserve credit for their efforts to win, even when the odds were against them.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

Games are almost as ancient as mankind. The games we play are mere variations of, and additions to, the ancient ones. The Greeks of early times believed that athletics played a necessary part in human life, so they had games and contests centering about the common activities of running and throwing.

The natives of India played a game called Poona. In 1870, some English army officers saw this game played with bats and a kind of shuttle. They tried it out and brought the game back to England where it was introduced as "Badminton."

Volley-ball and basketball are modern sports. Dr. James Naismith, an instructor in the Springfield, Massachusetts, invented basketball in 1891, starting, with his peach basket and soccer ball, a game which today has spread all over the country. Four years later a colleague of Dr. Naismith, William G. Morgan, began looking for a game less strenuous than basketball which would include more people playing on a single area. With tennis as a basis for this new game, he used a rubber basketball bladder for a ball, substituted the hands for a tennis racket, and raised the net. As the name implies it is a game of volleying. Volley-ball appeals to people of all ages and has become popular all over this country and in Europe.

These games together with tennis, softball, ping-pong, and shuffleboard are offered after school to the girls of Roosevelt. Soccer, speedball, and hockey are played on the campus during gym periods.

Games benefit one's personality. They improve one's posture, they make one feel better and look better; and, above all, they afford fun and exercise. An insufficient number of girls are taking advantage of this marvelous opportunity though sports are offered to girls of all terms.

So come on, girls! Let's get in the play!

GIRLS' VOLLEY-BALL

Volley-ball is one of the most popular sports for girls here at Roosevelt. Perhaps the main appeal lies in its simplicity. It is especially suitable for the player of average ability, and no one needs to be timid about taking part. Volley-ball is a team game. Therefore there are no champions, no big names, no stars, no "All Americans."

Perhaps this is not such a catastrophe. The girls come out to have a good time, enjoy an exciting game and actually derive some benefit from it, too. The game is excellent for teaching quickness, foot-work, and body control. Volley-ball is an American adaptation of an Italian game that originated in the Romantic countries, but from the delighted whoops coming from the Girls' Gym, on Tuesday afternoons, anyone can plainly see that Roosevelt girls have adopted volley-ball to stay. You see volley-ball isn't really a fashionable game at all; it's just a sport for girls to enjoy. It is good for the spectator, too, since he can sit close to the small court and keep the ball in constant view. Yet it is difficult for a spectator to watch the activity very long without feeling a strong impulse to pull off his coat and join the players.

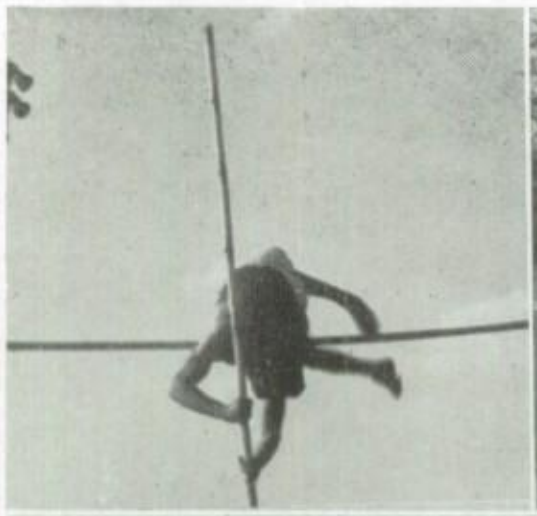
TRACK SQUAD

A gala occasion was the 1943 annual field and track meet, when all Roosevelt was at fever pitch. It was an impressive sight to see a large section of the stands bedecked in the good old school colors, crimson and white. Nobody doubted that the boys of the track team did their best to bring the championship back to Roosevelt, but in the face of determined opposition they were able to score only 92 points to Beaumont's 118½ and Southwest's 75½.

Hershel Lester, junior 50-yard dash, and Larry Stewart, senior pole vault, brought in the only two first places to Roosevelt.

Point-winning seniors were: Richard Ault, captain; Pat Burke, Larry Stewart, Arnold Wychel, Wendell, Winderman, Kruse, Tysdale, and Stricker.

Juniors were: Wickers, Lewis, Lester, Appelbaum, West, captain; Becker, and Kellough.



The midgets who scored were Captain Odenwald, Wilson, and Schmitz.

The school wishes to thank Mr. Castleman, Mr. Meinhardt, and Mr. Kuntz for their splendid coaching. All the Roseveltians, though disappointed with defeats, saw one of the finest competitive meets and next year we will be there again fighting for the championship.

FIELD DAY AUDITORIUM

Joy of joys! The great day has finally arrived. The expectant Roseveltians form a breath-taking pattern of crimson and white after they all crowd into the aud. While the school band is playing a lively air, the boys and girls listen attentively but restlessly, for the big moment is about to arrive. Now a hushed silence steals over the eager audience. Six trumpeters announce the coming of her Majesty the Queen and the Maids of Honor. The air is tense as eyes turn toward the door of the auditorium. One by one the maids of honor take their honorable places on the stage—Lois Ballard, Gloria Cunningham, Betty Christman, Rosemary Eisenmenger, and Corinne King.

Now the great moment has come. After waiting for what seems like an eternity, we see Dorothy Knudsen come forth in the traditional crimson robe and sparkling crown as our Track Queen for 1943 and escorted to her throne by Mayor Moxley. All the beauteous maidens "do the school proud".

Rousing cheers are given for our retiring queen, Betty Hampe, and for the reigning queen, Dorothy Knudsen. Coaches Kuntz, Meinhardt, and Castleman spoke to the throng of enthusiastic Roseveltians recounting our chances in the meet, when the captains of the various teams discussed briefly their team's talents and prospects.

Before closing the ceremony, Mr. Hill gave us a word of caution about going out to the meet. As a closing number, we sang our "Alma Mater", which always gives us a strange, choked-up feeling.

Even though we knew we might not win first place this year, we still had that same enthusiastic school spirit that has always made us proud to be called Roseveltians.

TRACK POINT WINNERS

THE SPIRIT OF FIELD DAY

Shouts and cheers from an enthusiastic Roosevelt body boomed and vibrated at the Track Meet, May 29, 1943. The boys and girls, wearing the traditional white and flaming crimson, presented a striking appearance from the field and lent much encouragement to the team. The cheerleaders with their boundless energy and vigor stirred the Riders to hope, and urged the team on towards success. The atmosphere was tense with excitement and thrills came every minute. Although our team did not taste the glory of victory, the boys proved to be the best of good losers. In years to come, we Rooseveltians will look back and recall with misty eyes the rousing spirit and pep displayed at our annual track meets.

FOOTBALL

The Rough Riders of Roosevelt started out their 1943 Pigskin Parade in a sad manner. We lost our first game of the season, against the Beaumont Bluejackets, by a score of 26-0. However, the team showed their usual sparkle and vim in our second game, against Southwest, in which the Riders played sterling football against a supposedly superior foe. After a long, grueling game the dust on the field settled, disclosing a scoreless tie. Unfortunately, the Riders lost their third game against McKinley by a score of 7-6, a defeat which the fans found hard to take.

The second half of the Rough Riders' league schedule proved brighter, however, for in the game with Central we emerged victorious with a score of 19-0. In this contest the Riders displayed a powerful ground attack and a good assortment of passes as they ripped through the game outmanning the Central eleven. Morale was high among the team, for they repeated their performance a week later and trounced Soldan 13-0, a defeat which was a mild upset, as the Tigers were supposed to be the better team. By this time the Crimson Tide had become invincible, and we easily took Cleveland, our long standing rival, by a score of 18-0. This game was without a doubt the most important of the season.

The coaches are to be congratulated for their hard work and sincere effort in developing our boys into the well organized machine they have proved themselves to be. The following boys received their football "R": George Geers, Captain; Jack Richardson, Bill Beck, Bill Speitel, Richard Ault, Carl Inman, Floyd Hartwig, Fred Eccher, Milo Mracek, Frank Hummel, Bob Karmi, Les Higginbotham, Bob Piros, Norman Ullrich, Les Medley, Ed Hoffmeister, Harold Hopper, Paul Graham, and Dick Schuessler.

FOOTBALL (B TEAM)

Moderator: Mr. Kuntz

"B" football at Roosevelt High School operates much the same as does the "farm system" in organized professional baseball.

It is thought that boys might be taught some of the fundamentals of football, such as blocking and tackling, systems of offense and defense, passing and kicking, signal calling, and rules.

Games have been scheduled with like teams of other public and church high schools.

Over and above these aims or purposes is the idea of giving boys an opportunity to practice clean sportsmanship, to build strong bodies, thus ensuring physical fitness, and to engage in a worth while use of leisure.

BASKETBALL 1943-1944

As the dull thud of footballs bouncing on the campus subsided, Coach Rost and his boys moved indoors to start the basketball season. Norman Ullrich, returning with two years' experience, and Eddie Hoffmeister are the only two regulars who will be back in uniform again this year. Ace Stricker and Bill Griffith have joined the Navy, and "Hank" Monroe was lost to the Army.

The boys were trained intensively in set-ups, set shots, and pop shots. Scrimmage followed warm-ups; and teams chosen by Coach Rost competed against each other. The team that finally looked best to Coach Rost comprised: Norman Ullrich, captain and center; Don Taylor, Paul Graham, and Bob Keller, forwards; and Eddie Hoffmeister and Dick Schuessler, guards. Substitutes: Medley, Hammermeister, Fleddermann, and Beck.

The first opponent to meet Roosevelt was Cleveland, which had been practicing since the beginning of the term. All of the Roosevelt basketball players were also football players. We, therefore, were handicapped in that we had had only a week and a half practice prior to the Cleveland game. The results were: Cleveland 35—Roosevelt 12. Ullrich was high man for the Rough Riders, netting six points. In the next game with St. Louis U. High, we showed considerable improvement. The score at the end of the first quarter was 9-7, in favor of Roosevelt. At the end of the half St. Louis had overtaken us, and they led by a very narrow margin. Up to this point it was anybody's game, but the Rider defense bogged down in the last half, enabling St. Louis to surge ahead. Roosevelt garnered a total of 19 points, compared to St. Louis' 45.

The prospects for the season are good. The Rough Riders, short of practice, will improve considerably as is shown by their improvement up till now. Although the schedule will be rather difficult, Roosevelt must meet Soldan and Beaumont, last year's champs, in the first games played. We know that they will always be trying their utmost, no matter what the odds. We expect Norman Ullrich to be chosen on an all-city team, and we sincerely hope he makes the grade. We hope to see every Rooseveltian at the games, supporting our team, which we know will do its best. Good luck! Rough Riders.

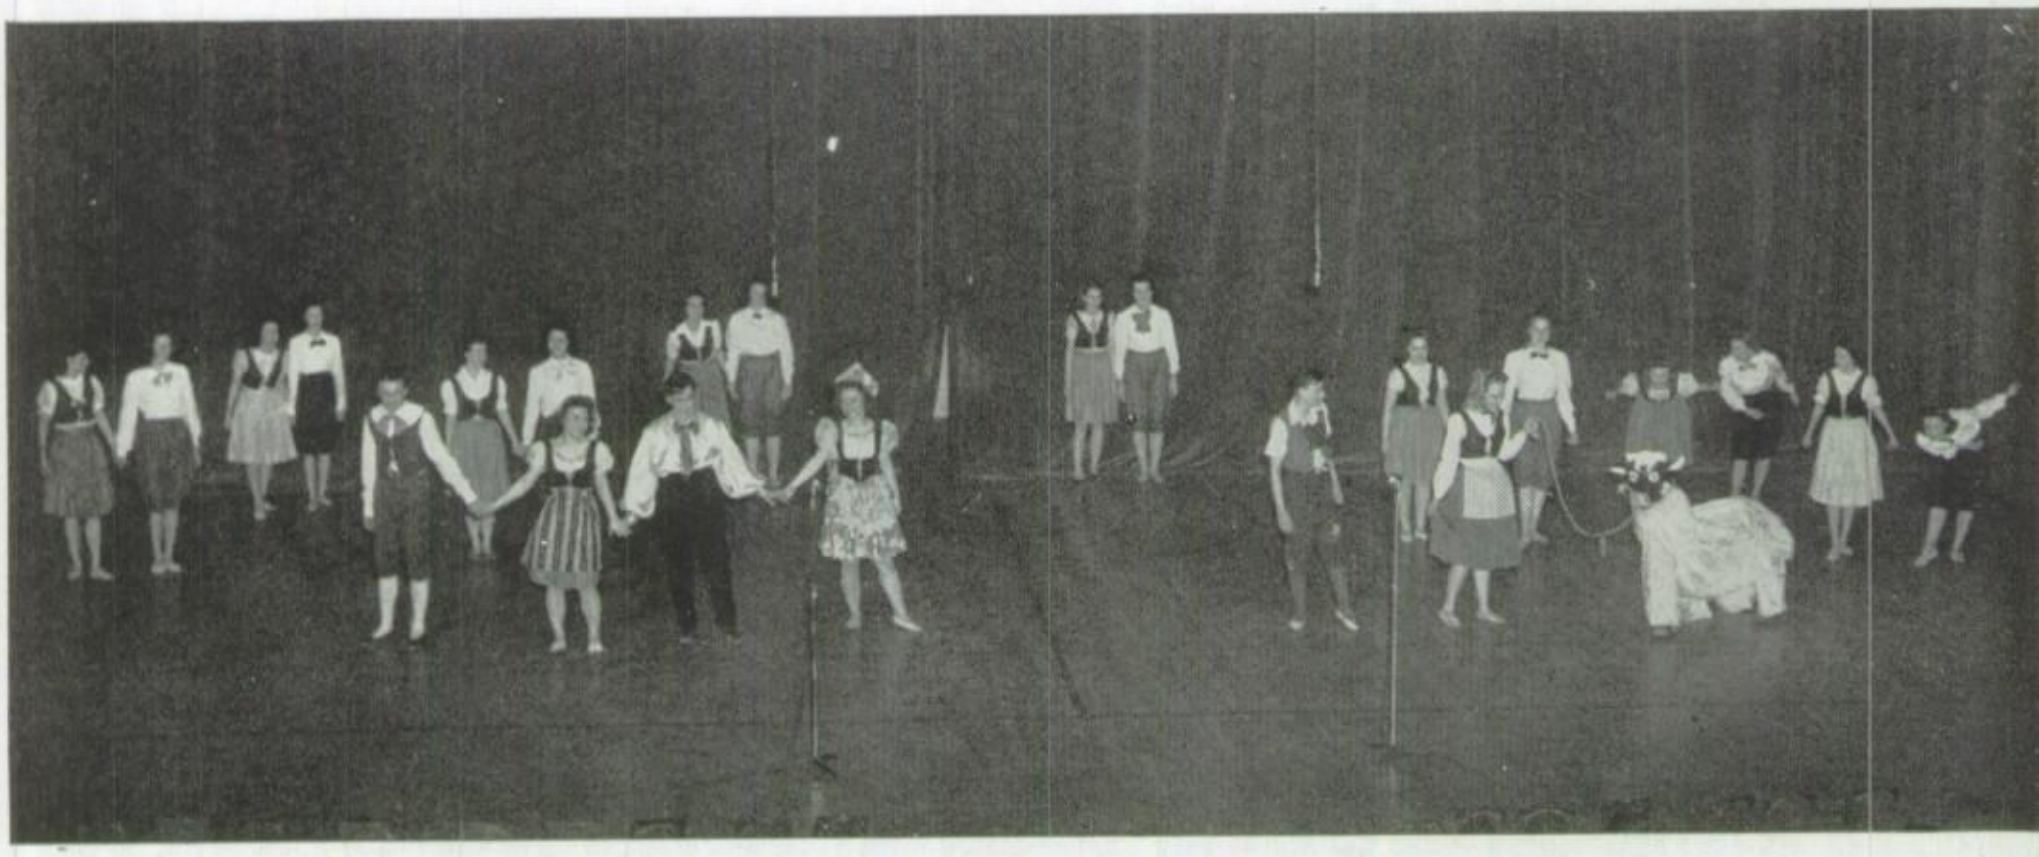
THE THREE TALES

On Thursday afternoon, May 13, and Friday evening, May 14, the students of Roosevelt High School under the direction of various members of the faculty presented their annual Spring entertainment. This year, instead of presenting a popular opera or a well-known play, Miss Hilb of the music department, Miss Schmidt of the dance department, and Miss Grace of the dramatics department produced and directed for the pleasure and enjoyment of the student body, as well as of the public, a triple treat called "The Three Tales". This excellent performance consisted of Joseph Jacob's "The Three Sillies", a story in dance, the choreography of which was directed by Miss Schmidt; John Kirkpatrick's "The Weatherman's Secret", a play directed by Miss Grace; and "Trial by Jury", a Gilbert and Sullivan hit, produced by Miss Hilb.

A synopsis of each of the program attractions follows.



"The Three Sillies": Once upon a time there were a farmer and his wife who had one daughter, and she was courted by a young gentleman. Every evening he would come to see her, and stop for supper at the farmhouse. The daughter on these occasions would be sent down into the cellar to draw ale. One evening, when she went down into the cellar to draw some ale, she saw a mallet stuck in one of the beams. She began to cry, thinking that some day she might have a son, and that he would come down into this very cellar to draw some ale, and would be struck dead by the mallet. She stayed down there in the cellar so long that after a time her mother and father came down to see what was keeping her. When she told them her story, they, too, fell to crying. Then the young suitor came down into the cellar to see what the trouble was. When the three told him their story, he pulled the mallet from the beam and told them that he was going to leave; if, however, he should ever find any other people who were bigger sillies than they were, he would return and marry their daughter.

Whereupon he set out on his journey, and having met a woman who was trying to get her cow on top of her cottage so that she could eat the grass from the roof, a man at an inn who could only get into his trousers by jumping into them, and a group of peasants who were trying to get the moon out of a lake with a pitchfork, he returned home and married the farmer's daughter, and they lived happily ever after.

"The Weatherman's Secret": In this amusing play, Bill, an inventor, Cotton Ann, a negro who had traveled all of the way from Tennessee to New York, Mrs. DeSpeppes, a flustery society woman, and Deuteronomy Flowers, a United States Senator from California, have all gathered together in Washington to see the weatherman, either to talk to him for some special reason, or to complain to him about the terrible weather conditions. Kate, the weatherman's secretary, in an attempt to conceal the weatherman's identity, tries to restrain them. Her efforts, however, are practically futile. As the play draws to an end, and the suspense of the audience concerning the weatherman is finally relieved, the weatherman turns out to be the weatherman's wife who thought that it would be fun taking over and running her husband's job, but who finally confessed to him in a telephone conversation that she had made a complete mess of it. The entire play takes place in the Office of the Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C.

"Trial by Jury": "Trial by Jury" takes place in a court of justice in England, where a disappointed would-be bride tells the judge and jury that the man whom she was going to marry deserted her for another. When the young man is questioned he replies that he would gladly wed her today, and marry again tomorrow. After tears and arguments, the story ends happily when the foxy old judge announces to the court that he himself will marry the disappointed bride.

PLAY DAY

The sun shone brightly on another Play Day. Although the number of girls participating this year did in no way compare with the attendance at former times, this was probably the most thoroughly enjoyed Sports Day in Roosevelt's history. One reason for the small attendance was undoubtedly the fact that the events did not begin until shortly after three o'clock, and no one was excused from afternoon classes, although an excuse was customary in previous years. Some of the girls played baseball on the field, others took over the tennis courts for both tennis and volley-ball, while still others enjoyed badminton in the girls' gym. There were in all about eighty girls taking part. Miss Varian, with the able assistance of the other gym teachers, successfully planned and carried out this event.

For days in advance girls of every term anxiously discussed the possibilities of rain or unseasonable temperatures, but the weather man, sensing the importance of this occasion, supplied an ideal day.

After a pleasant but strenuous afternoon, the girls, as usual, trooped onto the tennis courts and thoroughly enjoyed their fudgecicles. One of the impromptu events was the contribution, by the girls, of a new jumping rope to be used by the various gym classes.

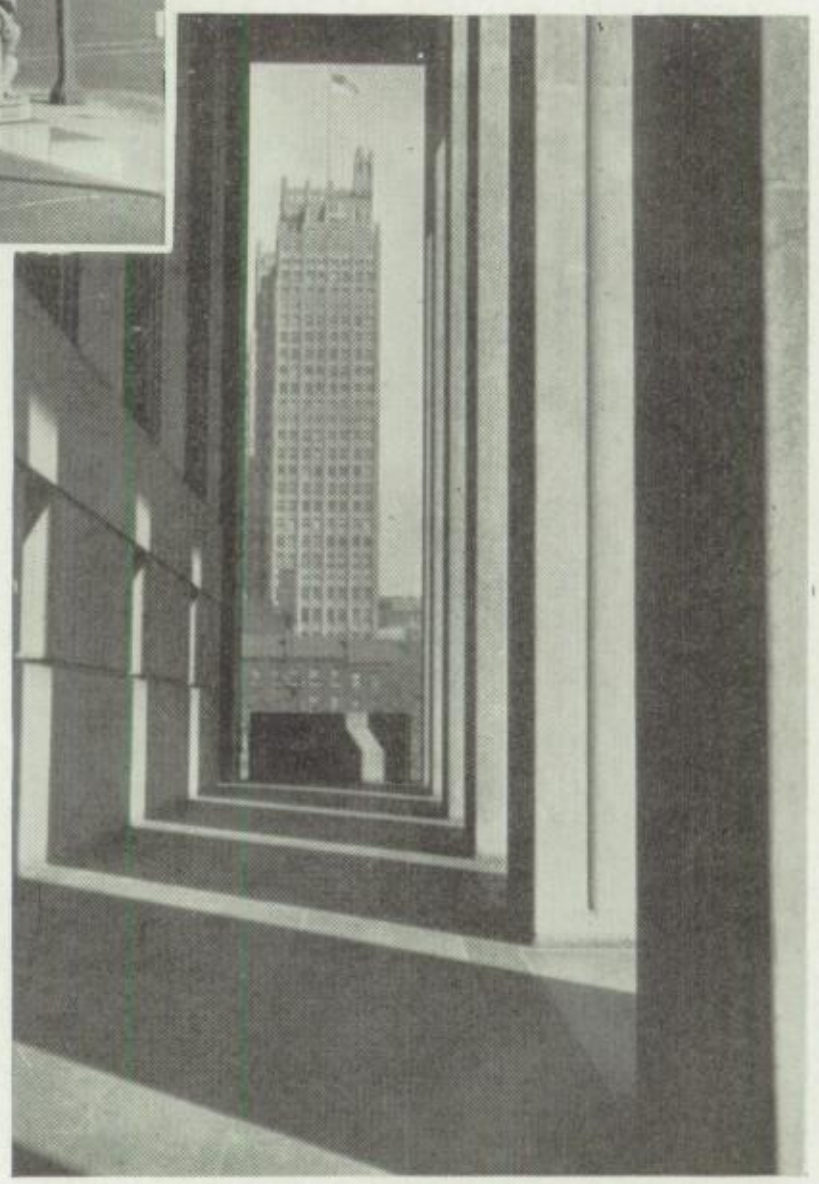
VICTORY QUIZ CITY CHAMPIONS

In a struggle that lasted from January to May, 1943, the Roosevelt High team fought its way to the city championship in the KMOX Victory Quiz on Current Events last season.

In the first round in January, the team consisting of Edwin Gillerstrom, Bill Reed, and Jim Dunn beat Cleveland by a wide margin. When Dunn graduated in January, Paul Rapp joined forces with Gillerstrom and Reed, and this team defeated Soldan in the second round.

In the semi-finals the Rough Riders won from the University City team, 90-60. Roosevelt's determined team captured the championship on May 1, by downing Rosati-Kain, 100-85.

"Let's Take a Picture of St. Louis" contest for local high school students, sponsored by the Young Men's Division of the Chamber of Commerce, this year produced entries representing thirteen city high schools.



Two prize-winning pictures, "On Guard", which tied for second prize, and "Evening Shadows", runner-up prize, were taken by Roy Klund of Roosevelt.

The pictures were selected from the group exhibited at the City Art Museum, May 17 to May 29, 1943.

CALENDAR

February to June, 1943

February 1-2: What are all those groans and moans for, everybody? What's that? Oh! You got such terrible programs! We understand and sympathize.

February 3: Here we go again—the grind starts for another term.

February 5: Jim Smylie represents Roosevelt in the American Legion Oratorical contest.

February 8: First call for track team members. Come on, all you speedsters—show your stuff!

February 10: "Believe it or not," who visits us today but Bob Ripley? He tells us many strange and seemingly unbelievable facts, but swears by their accuracy. We're honored, Mr. Ripley. Visit us again.

February 11: Sevens get going with a flying start. They have the first meeting of the term and hold election.

February 16: Vote for the six top bands on your list. Why? For the Rush Hughes show Friday, of course.

February 16: Try-outs for Victory Quiz team.

February 17: Speeches and campaign promises. You know what that means—election day. Winners are: Charles Moxley, mayor; Cherie Alcorn and James Smylie, editors of Rough Rider, and Beverly Lueders and Bob Wieselthier, BWANA editors. Congratulations!

February 18: First Senior meeting of term.

February 19: A big day for Roosevelt! Rush Hughes, that popular impresario of the latest and most popular recordings, brings a special show to Roosevelt. The object: a big Victory Dance—and we do mean big, for there's a record attendance. Admission was the purchase price of a 25c War Stamp. Two days before the dance each advisory voted for the six orchestras whose records should be played, and Harry James came out on top.

February 22: Happy day! Washington's Birthday and NO SCHOOL!

February 23-26: We can't believe it yet! It seems impossible, but for almost the whole week we have school only in the morning. Why? The teachers have to assist with the issuing of Number 2 ration books each afternoon. "There's a silver lining"—etc.

February 29: Hear that loud BANG? It's the shot that begins the State Championship Swimming Meet; and guess what! That's right—our Rough Riders are the victors! Congratulations, fellows!

March 9: Seniors meet to discuss graduation program and introduce new officers. Here they are: Erich Schafermeyer is the new president; Russ Sutter, vice-president; Gerry Hoffman, secretary; Bob Vieten, sergeant-at-arms.

March 9: All those wishing to enter the Oratorical Contest meet with Miss Grace and Miss Battle after school.

March 11: A Navy man comes to Roosevelt to speak to the Senior boys about the Navy V-12 program.

The Sevens introduce their new officers. They are: Marvin Weiss, president; Suzanne Guge, vice-president; Betty Battles, secretary; Richard Ault, treasurer; and Hazel Parker, sergeant-at-arms. The Sevens have big things planned, and should go far under their new leaders.

March 12: Today, at a double aud, Mr. Hill and Mr. Gammeter accept for Roosevelt two trophies won by the Rough Rider swimming team. After an interesting talk by Coach Meinhardt, Bill Moehlenbrock, captain-elect of the 1944 squad, spoke, and was followed by Hank Grich and Rial Rolfe, retiring captain of the '43 squad.

March 16: A film, "Ten Thousand Feet Deep," depicting the process of mining, is shown in the auditorium by students under the instruction of Miss Cutter.

March 17: "Begorrah! There wouldn't be that many sons and daughters of Erin, now would there? From the looks of ye, ye'd think the whole of Ireland moved here, would ye not?" It really seems that way. St. Patrick's Day appears not to have been forgotten by anyone this year, what with all the "wearin' o' the green."

March 18: More work for those long suffering Student Council Reps! Student bus passes will be sold through the advisories it was announced in Council.

March 19: The Social Committee of Student Council give the first dance of the season, called the "Spring Fling" and high-lighted by a comedy written by His Honor the Mayor, Chuck "Arsenic" Moxley, entitled "Speed Limit on Love," or "Don't Race Your Motor," or "Run for the Roundhouse, Daisy, the Landlord Can't Corner You There." Everyone has a wonderful time, well worth the admission price of 10 cents.

March 21: The Roosevelt master-minds win the Victory Quiz. Congratulations to the team.

A crisp bright day opens spring's 1943 season. From all appearances, spring will definitely hold to the old adage, "In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to——" you know what. There appear to be two things Hitler can't halt—the Russians and a young man's fancy.

March 23: Groan! Groan! Report card time again!

March 24: Sevens meet to choose the design of their buttons. Something new has been added—dancing after the meeting.

March 25: Many dimes are donated to the Film Rental and Postage Fund. Those pictures "Melody for Three" and "The Magic Bean" are worth it.

March 26: Apparatus meeting. Hurray for the tumblers!!!

March 29: Future WACs and WAVEs meet to plan a girls' drill corps.

Enlightening film, "Alloy Steels," is shown before school.

March 30: Now we know. Know what? Why, the function of our Student Council! The Citizenship Committee's aud is really good. Bright people receive scholarship pins, and art pins were given out, too. Thanks to Mr. Ammerman for his interesting speech.

Senior entertainment is planned. Class day is to be held at the Chase.

The stamp and bond thermometer soars up above the 70 per cent mark. Let's keep it soaring!

April 1: Second meeting of the General Division of the Victory Corps.

Meeting of the Sea Division of the Victory Corps.

April 2: Meeting of the Community Service Division.

Certain Senior boys took the Army A-12 and the Navy V-12 test. It seems the tests were rather hard.

That wonderful New Jay Party is given. Only the first termers and their Student Council Representatives are admitted. All have a good time.

April 3: Roosevelt face St. Louis U. High in a spelling match. The Rough Riders ring up a score of 27 while the Junior Billikens have 25. Congratulations to our fine spellers.

April 5: Girls' Drill Corps meets in the auditorium.

April 6: Oh! Report cards!

April 7: Double auditorium session to choose Washington U. Oratorical Contest representatives. During the first aud, the girl contestants—Anna Majtas, Betty Conrad, and Catherine Crnko—speak. The boy opponents are heard in the second aud. They were Jim Smylie, James Sharp, and Bill Phillips.——Anna Majtas and Jim Smylie win.

April 8: The long awaited day has finally arrived—the Sixes' first meeting. Miss Lawton is moderator.

April 10: Miss Grace's dramatics class presents a play at Maryville College, hoping to win for the third time in succession. Tough luck! Loretto Academy comes out on top, although two of our girls, Helen Dambach and Louise Harris, receive "best acting" awards.

April 12: That proposed Jefferson Day aud—where is it?

April 14: Pan-American Day brings an aud about the "South American Way." Particularly noteworthy is Roosevelt's own orchestra swinging out with "Brazil."

April 15: Sixes hold election of officers.——Oh, yes, the Sevens also have a big day, blossoming out with those big red buttons.

April 16: Hear ye! Hear ye! The class of June, '43, presents the Senior entertainment after school, followed by a dance. Quite a bit of talent!

April 19: Girls' Drill Corps finally decides on a name—RAES—for Roosevelt Auxiliary Emergency Service.

We have an extra special super treat! The nationally known Coast Guard Band gives us a concert. The program opens with a spirited rendition of "Semper Paratus." It does seem as if half the band members are former Rooseveltians. Marion Killmar receives an autographed copy of the theme song.

April 20: Miss Gray of the City Hospital speaks to the Senior girls about a career in nursing.

April 21: Roosevelt has its first fire drill, during the sixth period. Very successful!

Friday, April 23, and Monday, April 26: Imagine! We get off two whole days, making it a four day Easter vacation. Talk about the miracles!!!

April 29: Ah, the pause that refreshes—we have an aud session. First, a delightful piano solo by one of the faculty, Mr. Hoerner; then several selections by the Glee Club, and finally the presentation of the Harvard Book awards to Donald Katt and Otto Thiele.

April 30: A free dance?!! Yes, Student Council give a FREE dance in the third floor corridor. There's really a swell turnout.

Seniors order announcements.

May 1: Hooray! The Roosevelt Victory Quiz team comes out on the very top by defeating Rosati-Kain to the tune of 100 (perfect score) to 85. Congratulations to the members of the team—Ed Gillerstrom, Bill Reed, and Paul Rapp—for their good work.

May 5: Triangular track meet—Central, Soldan, and Roosevelt—at the stadium.

May 10: Louise Morley, daughter of Christopher Morley, the novelist and poet, tells in an aud session about a trip to England.

There is little school today! Several auds! In an impressive ceremony the "School at War" flag is presented to Roosevelt. We have the right to fly it because 92 per cent of the students bought bonds or stamps during April. Let's hope we can continue to fly it in all the succeeding months.

May 12: The Junior Town Meeting of the Air is held in the aud. James Smylie, Bill Dorsey, Jack Nohl, and Catherine Crnko are the speakers, and Dr. Byron T. Williams presides as moderator. It is quite a spirited gathering.

May 13-14: Encore! Encore! It is magnificent! What? Why, our '43 spring production, "Three Tales." Did you see it in the afternoon or the following evening? It was equally good at both performances. The ballet directed by Miss Schmidt put forth the "Three Sillies" in super fashion. Not to be outdone was Miss Grace's company portraying "The Weatherman's Secret." Last, but far from least, was the combined choirs of Miss Hilb and soloists and a repeat performance of the opertta "Trial by Jury."

May 18-21: G-R-O-A-N!!! Comprehensives! 'Nuff said!

May 25: The Sixes invite the Sevens and Eights to a skating party at the Crystal Roller Rink.

May 26: Something new in dance ideas—two admitted for the price of one at the Annual Track Dance.

May 28: Field Day! A more excited and determined group of Roosevelt students has never been seen. Crimson and red are the colors that predominate in the stands and Roosevelt voices chant the cheers that echo and re-echo the loudest, even though we don't win. Before the meet, Dot Knudsen is crowned queen in an impressive ceremony.

May 30: Roosevelt Drill Corps and RAES march in Memorial Day parade, in spite of rain.

May 31: Seniors have their outing on the Steamer Admiral. In spite of sore feet and sunburn, everyone has a happy time.

June 4: The music groups present a free concert for the public. Carol Club, the Glee Club, and the A'Cappella Choir all sing. The program features soloists and a repeat performance of the operetta "Trial by Jury."

June 5: Lady Luck frowns on us and Mother Nature does us wrong. It rains the very night Roosevelt is to attend the opera. No mere drizzle either, but a steady downpour—bucketfuls of water. Offhand, I would say an absolutely miserable time is had by all.

June 8: What's up? Isn't someone rather confused? Elections at the end of the term now, instead of the beginning, and two elections in one term at that, this time!——Bob Wieselthier is to be next term's mayor; and Donald Katt and Ruth Sartorius are the new editors of BWANA. Election of ROUGH RIDER editors will be held next term, as usual.

June 9: In a double aud. today, Mr. Hoerner, one of the music teachers at Roosevelt, presents a very entertaining and beautiful musical program, various ever-popular piano selections.

June 11: The Seniors bid farewell to books and teacher as they reach their last day of school.

June 14: Senior Class Day at Hotel Chase on the Starlight Roof. Everyone has a most enjoyable time.

June 17: Graduation.

June 18: Grade cards—and, if you're not going to summer school or to work—vacation!

THE JOLLY LETTERS YOU WILL WRITE SOME DAY

Someday, when the time permits, you'll write all those letters you've been answering in your mind lately. Let's see, you must write first to Tom. He is a nice friend. You knew him in New York, but haven't seen him for three years now. Tom will want to know all the funny experiences and good times you've had these past months. You'll have to think up a few jokes, too, for Tom's a great one for a good joke; he has such a hearty laugh! He is one person who can obtain much enjoyment out of life with very little effort.

Then Mary, your friend in Ohio, deserves an answer next. Nothing nonsensical or silly should be written to her. She likes straightforward facts and statements. She leads a busy, systematic life, works, and attends college at the same time, and still replies to your letter in no time at all. Well, maybe you'll be like that someday, too. Maybe!

You can't forget Jane or June, the twins, in Illinois either. Well, you can write just one letter to them; you can't tell them apart anyway. Oh, and you musn't forget old Mrs. Newstead, the lovable, old lady who was always so kind to you back in Pennsylvania. Yes, you'll have to write those letters soon, but you're going to move in the near future to another state. There you can catch up on all your letters, and, of course, answer the letters your friends living here will write to you then. Yes, sir, as soon as you've settled in the new house, you'll answer all those dear letters. Yes, sir, just as soon as you're settled!

FACULTY CHANGES

Each term Roosevelt loses a few faculty members, and gains a few new ones. Last term, which ended in June, 1943, brought several changes:

Mr. Henry Marx, a teacher of Aeronautics, came from Blewett High School to replace Mr. Milton Gruber, who joined our armed forces.

Miss Mary Calnane, teacher of commercial subjects, came from Cleveland High School, replaced Miss Hazel Kellogg, who went to Charless school.

Miss Dorothy Fager, gym teacher, from McKinley High School, replaced Miss Ruth Graul, who went to Shepard School.

Mr. Rudolph Fiehler was transferred to Wade Branch High School.

Mr. G. Bishop was transferred to Central High School.

Mr. William Hall was sent to Blow Branch High School.

This term again, our faculty was changed in several instances:

Miss Mary Burke, teacher of English and social studies, was transferred from Wade Branch High School.

Miss Velma Benedict, a general science and biology teacher, came from Beaumont High School.

Miss Elizabeth Gunn, teacher of business arithmetic, was transferred here from Wade Branch High School.

Mr. Chauncey Linhart, physical education and swimming teacher, was sent to Roosevelt from Cote Brilliant Branch.

Miss Viola Vogel, general business teacher, came from Wade Branch High School.

Miss Mary Wecka, teacher of English, was transferred from the Long Ninth Grade Center.

Mr. William Hall, Spanish teacher, returned to Roosevelt from Blow Branch High School.

Although we welcome new teachers to Roosevelt, we regret the leaving of other fine instructors:

Mr. George Meinhart, physical education teacher, entered our armed forces.

Mr. R. M. Inbody, former assistant principal, also is in the armed forces.

Mr. J. Castleman, our track coach and teacher of English, was transferred to McKinley at his own request.

Mr. Ross Hoerner, music teacher, was transferred to Central High School as a book clerk.

Our hearty congratulations go to Mr. Gammeter, who was appointed assistant principal from acting assistant principal.

The teachers who are on leave of absence are:

Mr. Arthur Buddemeyer
Miss Mary Calnane
Miss Laura Cox
Mrs. Cecelia Hospes
Miss Margaret O'Leary
Miss Eleanor Parle
Mr. L. M. Parrott
Miss Anna L. Place
Miss Tillie Schlierholz
Miss Eudora Smith
Mr. A. E. Spaulding
Miss Ethel Sprague
Miss Jennie Whitbeck
Miss Susannah Williams

Also on leave is Mr. Joseph Washtien, clerk.

Bwana wishes a hearty welcome to all new teachers, and the best of luck to those who have gone, either for military duty or to other scenes of activity, as well as to all those who are on leave of absence.

ON ANSWERING THE TELEPHONE

Brrr-ring! "Telephone, Wilma Lou!" My dinner is hot and ready to be eaten, or perhaps my iron is just hot enough to use, or I am deeply engrossed in a book or my homework when the inevitable happens—the telephone rings, and, as it is usually a call for me, I am the one who always has to answer it. I think it would be wonderful if everyone were a master of mental telepathy, then, instead of having to answer the telephone, ideas and plans would just pop into his brain. Such an arrangement would certainly save me from dinners that are too cold and electric irons that are too hot.

Now someone may suggest that I just let the telephone ring, so that the person on the other end will think that I am not at home, but to me this is quite an impossible suggestion. There is something about the ring of a telephone that arouses the curiosity. An unanswered telephone always leads me to wondering what pleasure, news, or tragedy was waiting at the other end of the wire, and I usually call all of my friends to try to find the source of the call. Certainly someone, someday, will help to save curious people like me from having to go through this process by inventing a telephone that won't have to be answered or one that will automatically record the number of the person who calls.

BILL

I am jolted from my reverie by the slamming of a door, followed by the patter of "number fours" clattering down the hall. Before I can collect my thoughts and analyze the situation, seventy pounds of lively boy flop into my lap, and a low, rasping voice coming from deep in the throat (supposedly an imitation of Jimmy Durante), greets me with, "Hello there, Junior!" This is my brother!

Prying him off my lap and settling myself in another chair, I lean back to observe him. I see a sandy-haired, freckle-faced boy with glasses sitting crookedly on his nose (mother has been after him for days to get them straightened but he never has had them adjusted). He's four feet, five inches tall with long lanky legs dangling from beneath his rolled-up jeans. Quite an ordinary looking chap, not handsome, but with an incomparable personality. I've never known anyone quite like him. His most outstanding characteristics seem to be conceit, non-dependability, and aggressiveness to which I might add personality and mischieviousness. Few understand him as I do. He believes in repenting at leisure, but never seems to have the leisure at which to repent. In group activities he must have a prominent position, or else none at all. Ever since I can remember, he has insisted on playing the leading part in school plays, and this year he has even written, produced, and directed a Hallowe'en play for the others in his class. You may think that he loses all of his friends in this way, but he doesn't because to tell the truth, much of the time he is the only one capable of filling various positions, and the others look to him for leadership.

He has a sharp wit (some say it's half-wit) and can pull a "gag" on almost everything you say. He is constantly imitating somebody or something. Fancying he can sing, he frequently chooses a famous baritone such as Nelson Eddy as the subject of his mimicry and gives out with such songs as "Stout Hearted Men" or his personal arrangement of an operatic air in a forced bass voice. On the other hand, he sings a lovely soprano in the church choir.

As an example of his humor, I would like to repeat one of his favorite original skits. Taking the part of an old man he leans on a cane and reminisces after this fashion.

"I'm getting very old now, old girl. In my youth, I was something of a villain. With this cane I brought sadness to the hearts of thousands of little children. I used to pull the Scoota-Boats in out at the Highlands!"

Maybe I'm wrong. Maybe to you all of this doesn't seem in the least out of the ordinary, but after all, he's not your ten-year-old brother.

THE NEW JAY PARTY

Imagine eight hundred New Jays singing the "Alma Mater". Well, that's just what was heard at the opening of the New Jay Party on Friday, October 29. This song was followed by a short selection from the band, under the direction of Mr. Hahnel, "There's a Star-Spangled Banner Waving Somewhere."

Every party should have a master of ceremonies. The master of the New Jay Party was Bill Barclay, who officially welcomed all the pupils of Term One at Roosevelt. After that, Mr. Gammeter, our Assistant Principal, spoke just a few words, because "this is the day for the New Jays."

Following this, the astonished upper termers heard two loud cheers (we must say very loud cheers), which were yelled by the New Jays.

Our baton twirler and drum majorette, Mary Della Berger, executed a routine which caused quite a disturbance among a few of the pupils in term one.

Would a party be a party if there weren't any questions asked? Well, Bill Barclay questioned sixteen pupils, one from each of the New Jay advisories. "Can you imitate animals?" "Do you know how many seats there are in the aud?" "Do you know where the swimming pool is located?" "Do you know who 'Bwana' and 'Rough Rider' officers are?" "What does 'Bwana' mean?" These were just a few of the questions fired at those poor, little, defenseless New Jays. Consequently, the New Jays did everything—from imitating animals to selling popcorn and soda pop when they really had nothing to sell. For all their hard work the contestants received delicious candy favors. What could be a better reward for those sixteen suffering New Jays? (That's the sixty-four dollar question.) After the questioning, the stage was cleared for dancing and the party increased in merriment and fun. Thus ended the gala New Jay Party for the September, 1943, class.

Many thanks should be given to the Welfare Committee under the supervision of Miss Chapman. The committee consists of Rosemary Eisenmenger (chairman), Barbara Hampton, Janet Feuerborn, Floyd McKinney, Dewey Overby, and Reynold Stelloh.

PRESENTATION OF KMOX NEWS MAP

Roosevelt is indeed indebted to KMOX, the Saint Louis affiliate of the Columbia Broadcasting System, for its gift of an elaborate bulletin board and newsmap. The board, which was presented to Mr. Hill by Miss Wilfley, a representative of the educational department of the Saint Louis KMOX studios, is designed primarily to enable the students to keep abreast of world events.

The Victory Quiz Team of Roosevelt will keep the news map up to date, posting a summary of current news items, and designating the locale of immediate interest.

SCHOOL OF THE AIR ROUND TABLE

Moderator: Miss O. Solfronk

On October 15, 1943, five Rooseveltians—Richard Killough, Robert Krieg, Narice Lloyd, Martha Ryder, and Don Sparks—opened the series of round table discussions on Columbia Broadcasting System's School of the Air of the Americas with an analysis of the problem, "Uniting the United Nations." The KMOX Educational Director, Miss Rosamund Wilfley, praised the Roosevelt group highly.

Last season our round table topic was "The Merchant Marine." In 1941 the subject was "Taxation." These three round table discussions have been sponsored for KMOX broadcasts by Miss O. Solfronk.

"OCHROMA LAGOPUS"

My mother says "ochroma lagopus" is the cause; my brother agrees with her; my father disagrees with them, and as for me—well—I am having a terrible time with Mother and "ochroma lagopus". It is like having a mother who doesn't love you. I have been trying to convince her that my point of view is at least partially right, but it seems my attempts are in vain. I agree on all of her points except the one about "ochroma lagopus".

What is troubling you, dear reader? You look puzzled. Have you a question? What! You do not know what "ochroma lagopus" is? Oh, that is right; you are not a modeler.

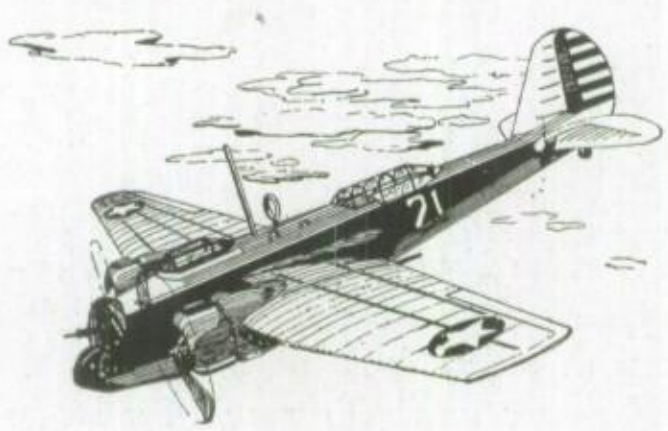
Well, as I was remarking, some of Mother's views are justified, but not all of them. I agree that streaks of colored paint on the kitchen table-cloth do not add to the appearance of the kitchen. Also, I admit that exhaust gases from my engine do not exactly perfume the house and that the odor of gasoline in the basement isn't pleasant to breathe, but these points, on which I agree, are small; the big problem is "ochroma lagopus".

I know, dear reader, that you do not know what it is, but be patient; I shall tell you in due time.

Recently, Mother put it flatly. "Victor," she said, "Victor, do you hear me? Get rid of that trash (she always calls my planes and 'ochroma lagopus' trash) or I'll throw you out with it." As yet, she hasn't, because Father is my ally. She complains that everywhere she turns there it is: under the bed, in the dresser drawers, on the kitchen table, under the stove, on the refrigerator, and in her hair. Almost every day she warns me not to go into the living room while working with it. Mother just doesn't like "ochroma lagopus", but to me it is indispensable. The enjoyment I have from working with it is indescribable. It is wonderful, and when I get hungry I chew it; it tastes like coarse bread.

I know you are growing impatient; therefore I will tell you what is "ochroma lagopus". It is the scientific Latin name for balsa wood, which we modelers use extensively in building planes.

VICTOR KOVACIK



OPEN HOUSE AT ROOSEVELT

Open House was held November 10, 1943. From 7:30 until 8:30 P. M., the pupils conducted their parents about the building and introduced them to their teachers and advisors.

Exhibits were displayed in the halls and in the classrooms.

The exhibits displayed were:

First Aid
Knitting
Typing demonstration
Trustee's office
Shops
Food and nutrition
Feeding rats in nutrition experiment
Mechanical drawing
Art exhibit
Problems of home living
Model airplanes
Swimming pool demonstration
Exhibition of clothing made in sewing classes

These exhibits, all very interesting, appealed particularly to the parents. In the first floor corridor was a Red Cross Display under the sponsorship of Miss Varian and Miss Haeseler together with members of the Red Cross classes. They demonstrated the various types of bandages and ways of applying them, using dolls as models. There were displayed, also, splints, and other first aid devices.

Another display which claimed much attention was the movie projector.

A bell sounded at 8:45 calling the parents and other guests to the auditorium for a typical school aud. session. Our orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Hahnel, played the "Star-Spangled Banner" while everyone sang it. Mr. Hill, the Principal of Roosevelt High School, extended a welcome to the audience and explained why we have "Open House" and "Education Week".

An invitation was then given by Mrs. Altman, President of Roosevelt P. T. A., to all parents to join the Parent-Teachers Association which meets every fourth Friday at our school.

The A'Cappella choirs, under Miss Hilb's capable direction, offered some fine musical selections by singing "Onward Christian Soldiers," "As Sinks Beneath the Ocean," "This is My Country," and "In My Arms."

The Spanish Club, whose moderator is Miss Comfort, presented a novel sketch on our Latin American neighbors. This was thoroughly enjoyed by all especially since the participants wore beautiful, colorful costumes of the countries depicted.

The orchestra played, very creditably, "Knights' Bridge," and selections from "Spring Maid."

Then followed the speaker of the evening, Dr. Rudolph Hofmeister, member of the Board of Education. At the conclusion of his speech, Martha Ryder, a member of the Girls' Drill Corps, explained the corps' purpose and introduced the boys and girls of the Drill Corps who gave a demonstration of their work.

The program was concluded by the orchestra's playing, at sight, "Night Life," thus bringing to a fitting close Roosevelt's Open House of 1943.

DEBATING

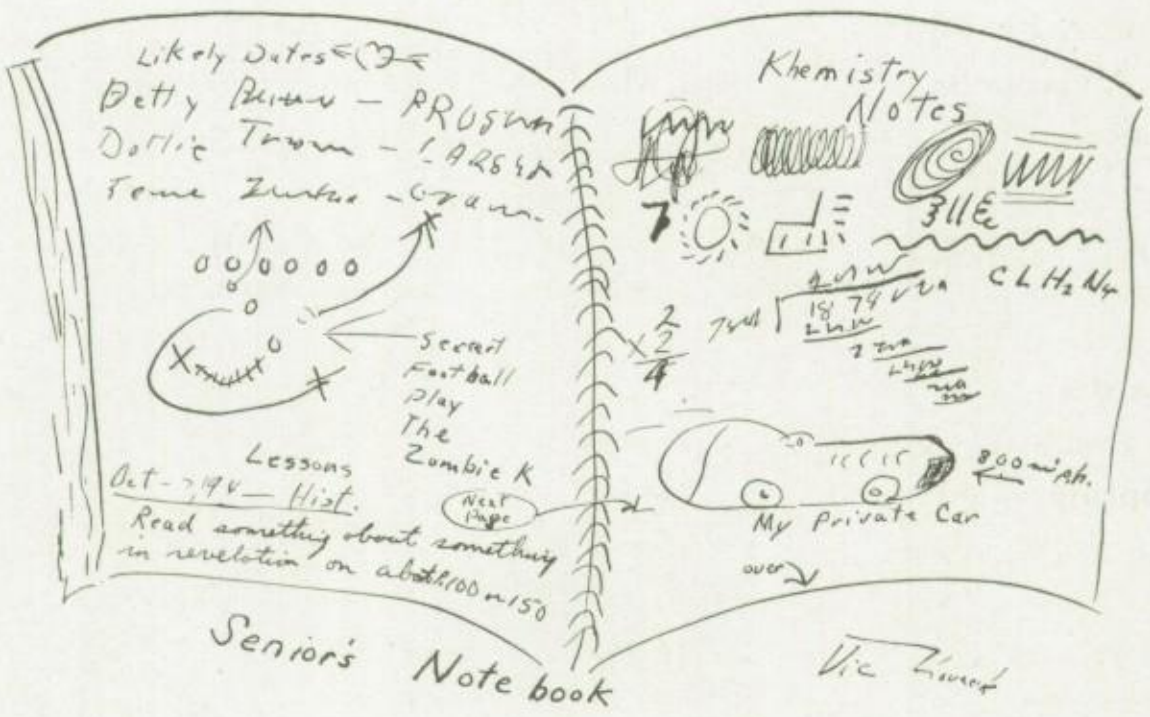
Coaches: Mr. Schmale and Mr. Snider

Debating is under the auspices of the St. Louis High School Debating League which functions as a subdivision of the Missouri State Debating League. The season this year extends from November 30, 1943, to February 19, 1944. Debates are held at the various schools immediately after school hours, and last about an hour each. The season closes with an all-day debate tournament at McBride High School, Saturday, February 19, 1944, in which the suburban high schools, as well as those of the city, participate.

SCHEDULE OF DEBATES, 1943-1944

Schools	Date
McBride vs. Central	Tuesday, November 30
Roosevelt vs. South Side Catholic	Tuesday, December 7
Roosevelt vs. Central	Tuesday, December 14
South Side Catholic vs. McBride	Tuesday, January 18
Central vs. South Side Catholic	Tuesday, February 1
McBride vs. Roosevelt	Tuesday, February 8
Clayton vs. Jennings	Wednesday, December 15
St. Louis U. High vs. Clayton	Wednesday, January 12
Jennings vs. St. Louis U. High	Wednesday, January 19

In each case debates are held at the school whose name stands first.



THE SPECTER'S RETURN

The last echoes of the chairman's query, "Is there any new business?" had bounded from the walls of the Council Chamber and scampered off into the shadows of whatever haven last echoes have.

The chairman gazed expectantly at the assembled representatives who dutifully stared back with scowls of deepest concentration.

The slow, dignified tones of the clock high on the wall drew my attention.

"Fifteen minutes until lunch. Oh, well, might as well check on my notes. What a mess! Hope I can decipher them by tomorrow." These thoughts ran through my head as I unobtrusively tried to unhook my fingers from around a pencil (with only moderate success, I might add).

Suddenly, a creaking noise disturbed my meditations and a voice called, "Mr. Chairman." (Subsequent events have led me to believe that that creaking noise was caused by a coffin lid being slowly pushed open although at the time I attributed it to an entirely different cause.)

"Mr. Chairman, I move that a committee be appointed to look into the possibility of joint-seating in the lunchroom."

With as little fanfare as that, our pet specter left his resting place and began his annual visit to us, the duly-elected and appointed representatives of our fellow Rooseveltians.

A ripple of tolerant amusement ran through our ranks, and the ennui that had been slowly descending on us beat a hasty retreat.

Friend Specter's appearance caused interesting speculations in the minds of some of our leading citizens. He had been buried with appropriate solemnity several times, but the internment was never permanent.

Perhaps something could yet be done to save him from another such ceremony.

With amazement I watched various forces rally to his aid. Arguments flew back and forth with the swiftness of a rapier in the hand of a master swordsman.

"The iron bar dividing the lunchroom could be contributed to the scrap drive." Patriotism had joined in the fray.

Finally, hostilities ceased and a vote was called for.

Anxiously our Specter hovered in our midsts as we made our decision. The motion passed!

OUR CUSTODIANS

In a school as big as ours one is very likely to find many "unsung heroes," that is, people who are vitally essential to the successful operation of the school, but still do not receive due credit. In our case it is our staff of custodians and matrons.

Besides sweeping the halls, picking up papers on the campus, washing windows, polishing the brass on the doors, washing blackboards, marking the athletic field, washing the furniture, cleaning out the swimming pool and shower-rooms, unlocking lockers for forgetful students, cutting grass in summer, shoveling snow in winter, and changing burned-out light bulbs, our custodians take care of the auditorium for graduation and operettas.

These men do not stop with their regular duties; for instance, two years ago Henry High, one of our ground floor custodians, constructed a field marker out of junk parts, thus saving the school the price of a new one.

LAWRENCE MATRECI

AN ONLY CHILD

An only child is a lonely child, the apple of her mother's eye. She is mother's darling and must do as mother says. First come piano lessons, each and every day. But what good are piano lessons if there's no one about her own age to whom she can play?

Webster says, "To be lonely is to be sad from want of companionship and sympathy." How true this is with an only child! She may have the thrill of buying a hundred dresses, but will always miss the greater thrill of "showing them off" to a sister or brother.

Her room is her own; there are no interruptions in the course of getting ready to go out or going to bed. Then, too, there is no older sister of whom she could ask advice on how to arrange her hair, or what dress would be most suitable to wear on a certain occasion. There is no brother Bill to bring a gang of fellows home, or a little nuisance by the name of Jimmy to use her special flower vase as the home of his newly-acquired tadpoles, or a little sister called Mary, forever and ever to ask "Why?" All alone, she spends her time, there is no one to get in her way or make her cross, and no one to bring laughter and joy into her heart. She lives, just one continuous, lonely life; each day the same. Mother is always near to render any help, but Mother cannot always fill the place of the scampering, joyful brother and sister lot.

Yes, truly, an only child, is a lonely child.

HELEN BURROWS

NOSES

The nose is a common thing. Everyone has one. Of course, each is of different shape: there are long noses, flat noses, pug noses, crooked noses; but the fact remains that everyone has a nose.

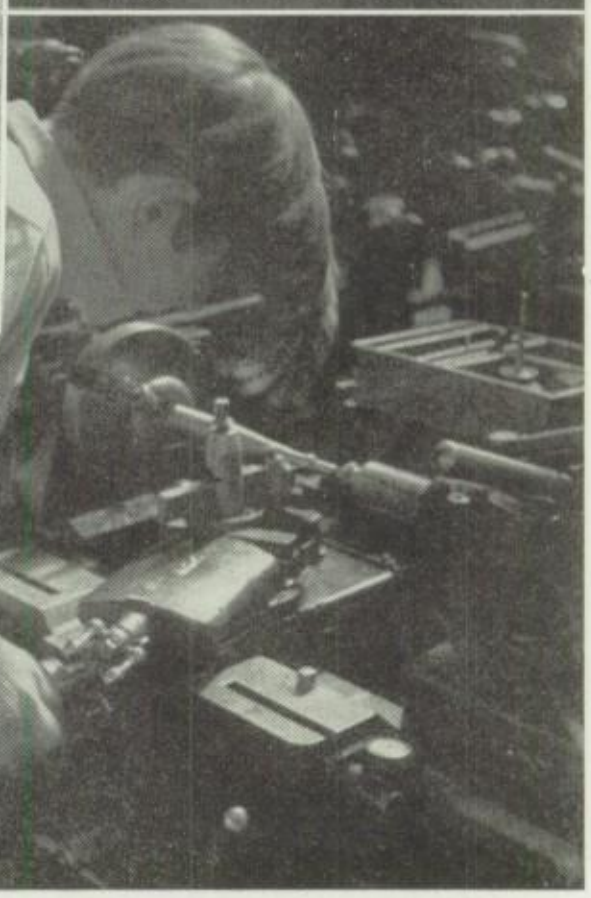
Can you picture a person without a nose? I can't. I can imagine a person without an arm, or a leg, perhaps a person without an ear or an eye, but a person without a nose, no!

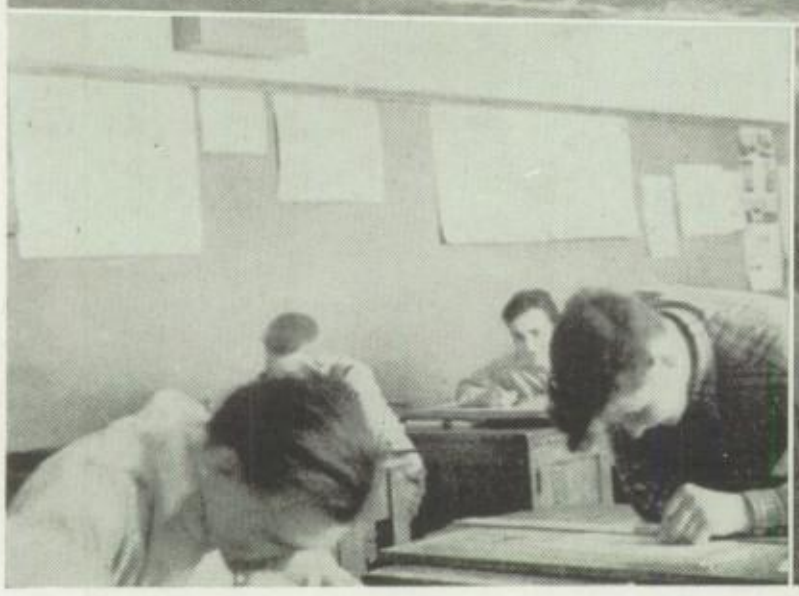
Think of the inconvenience of being without a nose. You'd miss all the smells in life: a campfire, smoke, trees, green grass, country air, flowers, fresh paint, a steak broiling in the pan, roasting chestnuts, and biscuits fresh from the oven and—oh, so many more! Why, half the joy of living would be gone, and just because you were without a nose.

But that's not the only way you would be inconvenienced. How would a girl get away from her boring escort? What excuse would she use if she couldn't say, "Pardon me, please, my nose needs to be powdered?" How could a boy get a bloody nose if he didn't have a nose to get bloody? How would people keep their pinch glasses on if they didn't have noses?

It's a good thing God gave each of us a nose. What would we ever do without it?

MARY JANE LaRUSSA





BWANA CALENDAR

September 7: Get in that supply of midnight oil and tune up that thinking machine! Here come those books again! Yes, it's the first day of school, the fateful morning that marks the end of our 1943 vacation and the beginning of another long year of school. "But don't get us wrong," we love Roosevelt!

Many of us wishing to be very patriotic, try to change our C cards for A cards; but the O. P. A. (Officers of Program Adjustments) decides differently. They do not appreciate that type of patriotism.

September 8: New Jays register and sign up for classes. There seem to be more of them each term. Oh, bliss!—butter checks—elevator passes—sold right here! All you want!

September 9: Classes start! More fun! Same old friends; new teachers. All the comforts of school.

Hurrah! Street car passes go on sale for the first time this term—fifty cents gone, but well invested.

September 10: Today one of the teachers said, "From now on you buckle down." Homework is beginning to pile up.

September 13: The start of the second week of school—only 19 more weeks till?—"Pass or Fail"—Optimistic, eh?

September 14: Stamps and Bonds are sold through the Advisories for the first time this term. Our goal this term is an ambulance plane and "a flock of jeeps." Let's hope we can buy these and many more.

Girls who are interested in bowling this term meet in Room 302 for the purpose of organizing. This term, the girls will bowl on Tuesday.

While the girl bowlers are up on the third floor, all the husky boys who love to send that black ball speeding down the alleys meet in Room 202, for the first time.

Those few talented Rooseveltians who always say the right thing at the right time meet with Mr. Schmale after school. Don't you know whom I'm talking about? Why the members of our interscholastic debating club.

September 15: Roosevelt's natty knitters, who have been purling since Pearl Harbor for the Red Cross organize for this term. Our "Knit-Wits" deserve much credit for the important work they are doing.

Our lordly Seniors, under the able direction of Miss Wolff, meet and elect their officers who will lead them until January 27. Mr. President is none other than that tall, fast-stepping track captain, Richard Ault. Something tells me that the class will really go places, following him. Other officers are Hazel Parker, Vice-President; Violet Margaritis, Secretary; Donald Katt, Treasurer; and Joseph Basta, Sergeant-at-Arms.

September 16: Roosevelt's governing body, Student Council, meets for the first time under Mayor Bob Wieselthier. The other officers are Bob Keller, Vice-President; Secretary, Violet Margaritis; and Parliamentarian, Richard Ault. Chairmen of the Six Standing Committees are: Rosemary Eisenmenger, Welfare; Harold Hopper, Athletics; Richard Mawdsley, Citizenship; Bill Moehlenbrock, Finance; Don Langeneckert, Social; and Jack Smylie, Property.

Our dear little New Jays meet in the auditorium the first period today to learn more about their new Alma Mater and to be introduced to several of the important people in the school.

After the Star-Spangled Banner was sung and the Pledge to the Flag was given by the Freshmen, Mr. Hill introduced the Co-ordinator of Freshmen Advisory Groups, Mr. Robert Young. Mr. Young then introduced Mr. Gammeter, our assistant Principal, the office force, the head of the lunchroom, and others, including the advisors of the June, 1947, class. Mr. Hill spoke again the end of the session explaining the School at War Flag and the High School Victory Corps.

September 17: The election of the editors for Rough Rider this morning during the advisory meeting. Previously, the editors of Rough Rider, together with the editors of Bwana, the Mayor, and Chairman of the Standing Committees, had been elected in an aud session, but this year the election is conducted in a new manner. The Rough Rider staff and moderator decided to hold their own election and selected as candidates staff members who contributed the best service last term. The results were that Betty Chipley, writer of the feature articles, and Floyd Hartwig, the former Sports Editor, were elected Editors.

Our future Seniors (the Sevens) hold their election primaries.

September 18: Roosevelt opens its football season by playing St. Louis U. High at Walsh Stadium. The score is 19-6 favoring St. Louis U. High.

September 20: This week will see many of our clubs organizing for a new and profitable term. Among them are the Chess Club, Girls' Volleyball and Ping Pong and Badminton, Junior Red Cross, Pep R, Spanish Club, Photoplay Appreciation and the Art Club. The first Bwana meeting of the term is held with its new officers, Donald Katt and Ruth Sartorius presiding. Despite the early hour and Monday morning blues, it looks as if our yearbook is to be published by a fine staff, judging from the large group of students in 328.

September 22: The second meeting of the Seniors is held. The first social is discussed and it is voted unanimously that it shall be a dance in the lunchroom. Three committees are appointed by President Ault to take care of (1) Caps and Gowns; (2) Senior Buttons; (3) Invitations.

September 23: The Sevens hold their second meeting of the term and elect the following officers for the term: President, Harold Hopper; Vice-President, Bob Keller; Secretary, Pat Ryan; Treasurer, Henry Giesenbier; Sergeant-at-Arms, Jack Richardson.

It is wondeful! It is great! It is fun! What? Why the first aud; Yes! A stirring aud, with Mr. Lorenzen in charge, rousing Rooseveltians to greater purchasing of War Stamps and Bonds. Mr. Hill requests the students that he be given information concerning former Roosevelt Students who are now in the armed forces. He, also, announces our goal for the year in war bonds and stamps—$110,000, the price of an ambulance plane. The program is high-lighted by the Rough Rider band's playing two numbers; the Girls' Drill Corps, giving a fine exhibition of drilling, and the "A" period and sixth Period Choirs singing. The Mayor, Bob Wieselthier, speaks on the subject of war bonds and Ensign Louis Neeb, Coach Neeb's son, makes an impressive speech which will be remembered by all hearers. Lovely Emma Jean Adams (Class of June '43) and recently elected "Miss St. Louis" does a tap routine. The program impressively closes with the singing of our Alma Mater.

September 24: Hooray for the New Jays! They're learning fast. An aud session was held today especially for them. Mr. Hall and Mr. Griggs delivered stirring speeches to benefit each freshman as to the school and school spirit. Then came the cheers! They were taught by the cheerleaders and loudly accepted by our freshmen.

September 25: The Roosevelt Rough Riders meet the McBride Eleven Saturday night at the Public High Stadium. Our team wins by a score of 6-0. Their record for the season now stands at one defeat.

September 28: The football season has started and the students of Roosevelt are introduced to their football team in a lively pep aud. The program, under the direction of Mr. Neeb, opens with the singing of the Rough Rider Victory Song. Then we all shout with lusty cheers, hoping that by doing so, we might prove to our boys that we're rooting for them—win or lose. Mr. Hill, Coaches Rost, Van Reen, and Kuntz tell the students about this year's team and the bargain season passes. The team's captain, George Geers, urges all Rooseveltians to appear at the games and cheer the boys to victory. Short talks are also given by Richard Fults and Ed Hoffmeister, members of the team. "Admiral" Hahnel suggests that this aud be dedicated to Arnold Stricker, former Roosevelt player, and captain of our '43 team, who has since joined the Navy. This suggestion is enthusiastically approved by the assembly and the telegram is sent at once. The aud is concluded with the singing of the Alma Mater by the student body.

September 29: It's here again! The first issue of Roosevelt's "hot-off-the-press" newspaper, the "Rough Rider" comes out today. Did you get yours? This term's editors are Betty Chipley and Floyd Harwig. I wondered why they looked so worried lately!

Today the Victory Garden Club and the Ice Skating Club hold their meetings and try-outs for both the Girls' and Boys' Swimming Club was held.

September 30: An aud is held for the New Jays at which Mr. Hill, the Editors of Rough Rider, and the chairman of the Finance Committee speak to stimulate the sale of Rough Riders. Former Assistant Superintendent of Schools, Mr. B. G. Shackleford, speaks on the food the body needs, and free copies of the newspaper are given to all of the First Termers. When the Sevens hold their meeting today, several things are discussed, although the meeting is quite short. Graduation pictures are to be handed in to Bwana before November the first, and specifications for the printing of pictures are announced. The Sevens decide to have a separate button for each individual term instead of combining Sevens' and Eights' buttons into one design.

The conclusion of the current interscholastic tennis matches at the Jefferson Memorial courts finds the Roosevelt Rough Riders in fourth place. In the final matches, our team downs Central 3 to 1, so throwing Cleveland and Central into a tie for fifth place. Southwest ends in the number one spot, Blewett takes second, and Beaumont ties with Soldan for third.

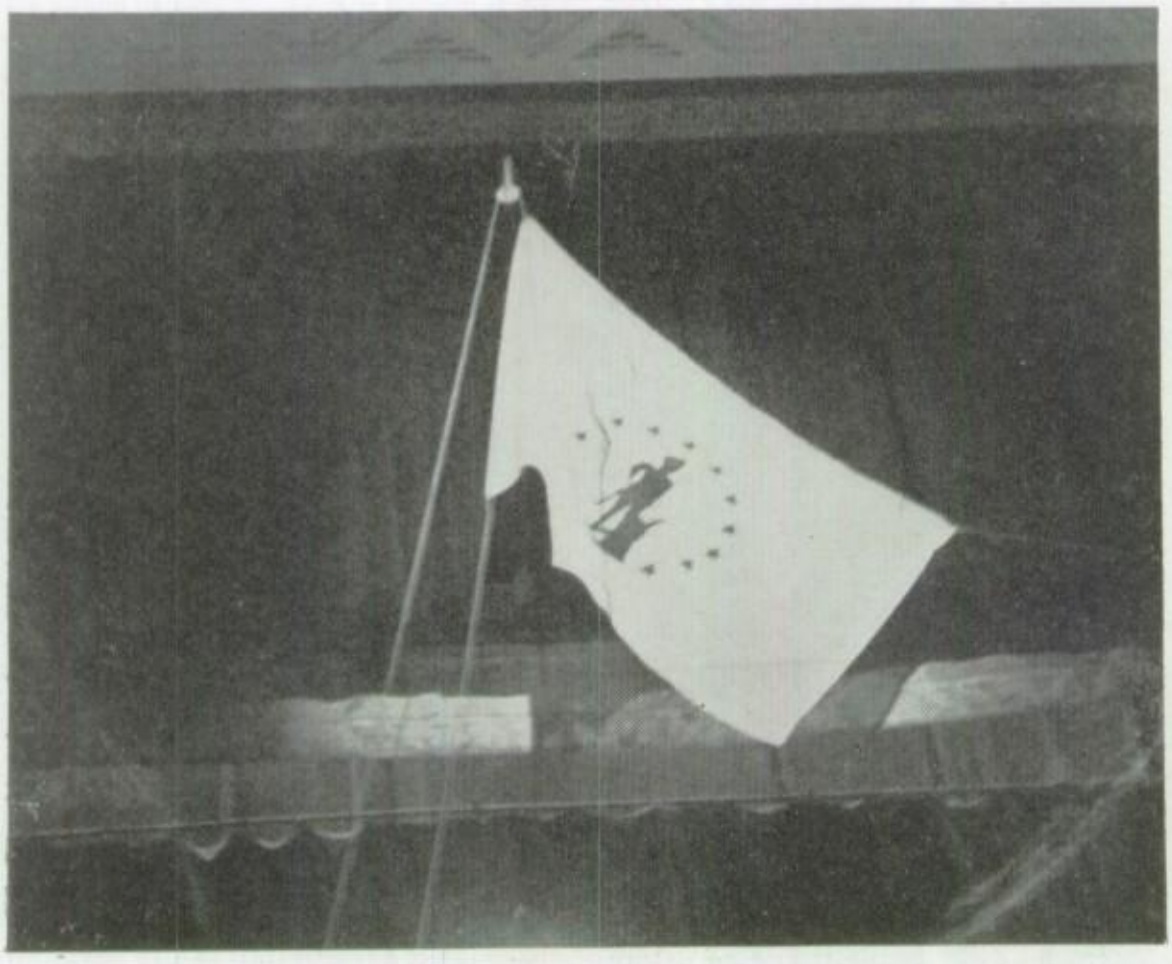
September 25-29: Seniors sign up for their buttons and select the company from which to order their robes. It's maroon for the boys and white for the girls, again!

September 30: Ding-a-ling, ling, and clang, clang! Bells are ringing loudly and everyone races out of the building, happy because they will miss out on part of their sixth period. Many newcomers to Roosevelt are startled at the bells' ringing, but they are easily pacified when they are told that the reason for all the commotion is Roosevelt's first fire drill. Teachers and members of the drill corps manage the drill efficiently and all is accomplished in record time.

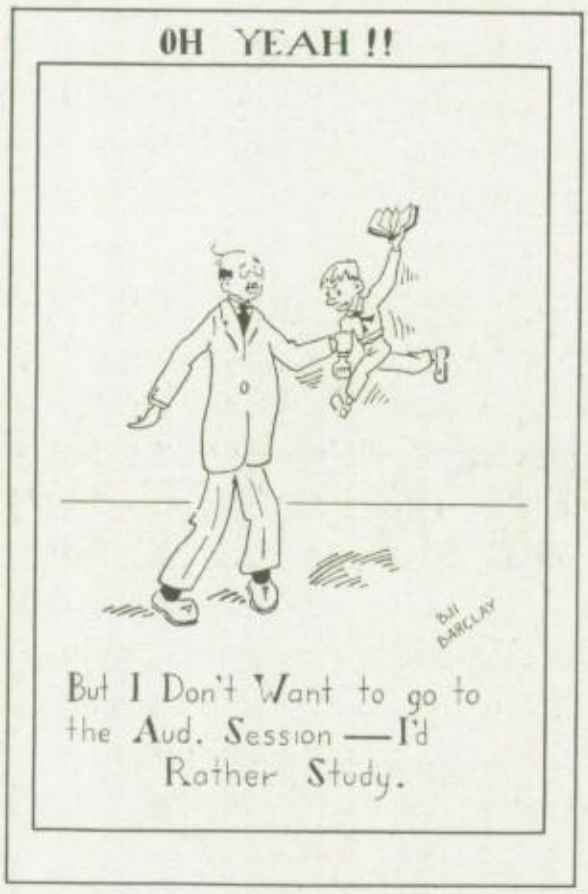


October 1: This is the fourth month in which Roosevelt has won the privilege of flying the School-at-War Flag. Ninety-four per cent of the school went all-out in the war effort to give us this honor. Let's keep that flag flying! Buy War Bonds and Stamps!

October 2: The Roosevelt Rough Riders are defeated by Beaumont in their first league game. The final score is Beaumont 26, Roosevelt 0.

October 5-6: "Smile pretty and watch the birdie!" Click! That man's here again. It's time to get out that good sweater (boys, don't forget your tie) because pictures are being taken for Bwana. All the club members present their scrubbed and shining countenances at the front entrance waiting for their picture to be clicked. Odd sounds are heard, though. Groans of horror as pupils relate how they moved just at the wrong time, or shouts of glee when, after consulting the time schedule, they notice they are to miss fifteen minutes of Latin.

October 4: Again a fireman takes the stage. But he's a Captain now—Captain Quinlivan of the St. Louis Fire Department. His jokes are perhaps the same, but his message is all important—fire and its hazards. The captain is one of a hundred or more firemen who visit the public schools today in observance of Fire Prevention Week. Rooseveltians are congratulated for their fire prevention measures during the past year, and are encouraged to co-operate to a greater extent in fire safety during this, our third year of war.



October 5: The United States Employment Office, a part of the War Manpower Commission, has requested the school to register all members of the graduating class. The office calls it an employment census, so today, all Seniors filled out forms giving vital statistics, hobbies, and aptitudes leading toward vocations. The Guidance Office, under the direction of Miss Remnitz, assembles this information which will be used to help fill the present employment needs and the post-war needs.

October 6: Lieutenant Roberts of the Navy speaks today to senior boys —that is, seventeen-year-old men—about the Navy V5 program. He tells of the opportunities in Navy aviation.

October 7: Mr. Hahnel and members of the band demonstrate to the assembled First Termers the part that each of the groups in a band plays: the woodwinds, the brasses, and the percussion instruments.

Say, you lucky people with afternoon study halls, how are those World Series games? Our radio and loud speaker system is set up in the auditorium and we all follow the Cardinals with enthusiasm.

October 8: Student Council sponsors its first dance in the aud, and it's free!!!!

Roosevelt, in the second league game of the season on Friday night, outplays Southwest in every way possible. The squad shows for the first time that it is a football team with that old Roosevelt fighting spirit. They have Southwest pinned down all through the game and end with the score 0 to 0.

October 12: Today is the big day. All students have a chance to see it; yes, the Jap two-man submarine. Today, if you buy a dollar's worth of war stamps, you will receive a ticket to see the sub.

October 13: "Rough Riders!" Whose are those pictures on the front page? Yes, they're portraits of the officers of Roosevelt for this term—not a bad looking group.

The new standard Roosevelt class ring is shown officially for the first time. The rings, which are on display in the trophy case, are very handsome, indeed, and all seniors will be proud to wear their class rings, proudly showing to all that they were graduated from Roosevelt High School.

October 14: A Sevens meeting is held in Room 301. A choice of class button is voted on, a decision is made to hold a carnival and dance as the first class social.

October 15: Problems of Living Classes have an aud session. The classes are made up of New Jays, and several embarrassed seniors find that there is a difference between Home Problems and Problems of Living Classes.

Once again Roosevelt is represented in a radio round table discussion by five students. The subject this year, "Uniting the United Nations," is presented at 2:30 p. m. at KMOX. The five speakers this year are: Richard Killough, Robert Krieg, Don Sparks, Narice Lloyd, and Martha Ryder. Three of the speakers, Martha Ryder, Narice Lloyd, and Don Sparks are veterans of last year's discussion group when their topic was the "Merchant Marine." Miss Olga Solfronk, director of the American School of the Air program for several seasons, and coach of our winning Victory Quiz Team last year, trained the speakers. Freedom of speech has long been an American tradition; let's keep it alive by intelligent speech.

October 14: Watch that birdie! Let's see that bright smile! Those mighty Sevens held a meeting to make the announcement that Bwana photographs are to be handed in not later than October 25.

October 16: Alas! Alack! And woe is me!! The McKinley Goldbugs defeat our Roosevelt Rough Riders 7 to 6. It was a good fight, fellows, even though we didn't win.

THERE'S ONE IN EVERY SHOP!

October 17: May I borrow your frame for the coming struggle? The joint is really jumpin'! All rug cutters are going to have quite a fling at the Senior Hallowe'en Dance, which, according to the latest communique, is to be given October 28.

October 18: Señor Jose Quiros from Ecuador has been thrilling us with a visit. Señor Quiros is an English teacher interested in making a study of our classes. And what an accent!

October 20: An auditorium session is held for the Freshmen at which Señor Jose Quiros spoke on his native country, Ecuador.

October 21: The Eights vote for their invitations.

October 21: Three cheers! A double dose of vacation! Due to rationing, students are given two afternoon holidays. So you see, rationing has its good points.

All who wish, attend a meeting under Miss O. Solfronk for the Victory Quiz. Many are competing for a place on Roosevelt's Victory Quiz Team.

Miss Hilb's—and of course, Roosevelt's—prominent crooners and canaries present a very delightful musical consisting of eight numbers, in an auditorium session.

All the Social Science classes hear a speech by Señor Quiros, the Spanish visitor from Ecuador, who has been spending the week at Roosevelt.

October 22: Hurrah! another afternoon off due to rationing.

An auditorium session is held to bid farewell to Señor Quiros.

A sweet football game! Rough Riders gridiron gremlins annihilate Central 19-0 for the first "win" of the season. Three cheers for the team!

October 25: Everyone comes to school with a pocket full of money. Why?—because Bwana subscriptions go on sale today.

October 26: Why all the moans and groans? Well, October 26 is the first report card day of the term. Passed everything?—good. You didn't?—well, better luck next time. What's that big crowd over there doing? Oh, they're only gazing at an "all E" student, and trying to decide whether he's real or not.

Hurry, Seniors! get your pictures in to Bwana. It can't go on without all of your glamorous faces.

October 27 is recognized throughout the nation as Navy Day. This day is set aside each year to focus attention upon the Naval Services. Therefore, at Roosevelt, an auditorium session is held to commemorate Navy Day, under the direction of Mr. Lorenzen. Miss Grace's public speaking classes present a short program based on the celebration of Navy Day, and a sailor gives a flag demonstration. As a concluding number on the program, a Wave talks on the job women are doing in the armed services of the United States. Her speech is most interesting and enlightening, and the entire session is enjoyable and profitable.

October 28: Sevens and Eights enjoy a dance with the one and only—Roosevelt's Swing Band.

Ho! Ho! Scholarship pins are given out today at the Student Council Meeting, third period. Three cheers for our brilliant fellow sufferers.

October 29: Well, the Big Day for the New Jays at Roosevelt has finally rolled around. Why? Well, the New Jay Party, of course. This gala affair is held for the meek little first termers after school in the lunchroom. Hats off to the Welfare Committee for their grand job in making the party a success.

October 30: The Rough Riders score a surprising shutout victory over Soldan. The score: Roosevelt 13, Soldan 0.

November 1: What at first appeared to be merely a reprieve from the third period classes turns out to be one of the most interesting aud sessions of the present term. The speaker is Colonel Hans Christian Adamson, who gained national prominence when the flying fortress in which he and his companions, among whom was Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, was forced down in the South Pacific. Apparently fully recovered from the ordeal of spending twenty-three days on an open raft, Colonel Adamson speaks on the necessity of keeping American youth in school as long as possible. He gives an account of the hours between the take-off from Hawaii and the time he left the doomed plane and took up residence on a tiny rubber raft.

November 2: Today is Bond and Stamp day. We just made it under the wire to have the right to fly the School-at-War Flag!

November 3: A film entitled "Mexico Builds a Democracy" is shown in the auditorium. Si! Si!

Now another aud session for the new jays! They have all the luck!!

November 4-5: Well, Brain-Busters, you may close your books for another four days because it's our lucky year again—Teacher's Convention! It's days like these that keep us students happy—Oh, but don't get us wrong; we LOVE school.

November 6: Today's football game between Roosevelt and Cleveland, the last of the season, is postponed because of inclement weather. The game is scheduled to take place on Monday evening, November 8. However, many loyal Rooseveltians turn out at the stadium undaunted by the rain, before they hear about the postponement of the game.

November 8: BLUE MONDAY! And do I mean blue—after that four-day week-end.

Roosevelt's last game of the season! Results? Why a victory over Cleveland, of course!

November 9: An auditorium session for the freshmen at which Mr. Grossman speaks on mathematics, and films are shown on the manpower situation, and on the growth of America.

November 10: Open House! That annual event is here again! Yes—now is the time when our teachers let the cat out of the bag by relating all to our parents who come to visit and inspect our great institution of learning!

November 11: Three cheers! Hoo-ray! Hoo-ray! Hoo-ray! Another holiday. Reason this time—it's Armistice Day. Hep—2, 3, 4—Hep, 2, 3, 4—Yes, it's Roosevelt's own R. A. E. S. marching in the annual Armistice Day Parade.

November 13: The Victory Quiz is held and after a close struggle Cleveland wins, 130 to 90.

November 15-19: To start our long-week-of-the-month off with a bang, Bwana Staff members arrive at eight o'clock A. M. to do a little extra work on the book you are now reading.

At 3:05 all boys interested in playing basketball assemble in the aud. This is the first step towards forming a team for the coming season. Hope for good results!

November 18: An auditorium session is held for Freshmen at which members of the industrial arts department of Roosevelt High address them. Why doesn't someone drop a hint that there are other people in this school besides New Jays?

November 19: The Sevens present their first social of the season; a combination carnival and dance. Such features as fortune tellers, weight guessers, Indian fakirs, games of chance, and some of the best recordings obtainable all added up to make the social a thrilling success.

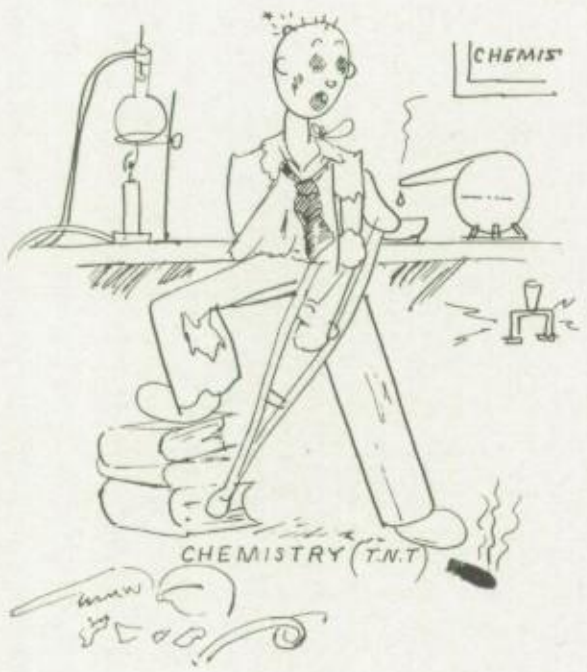
November 22: Tickets are now on sale for the turkey dinner to be served on Wednesday—Yum! Yum!—Only fifteen cents a plate with turkey, potatoes, dressing, cranberry sauce, and a vegetable! Quite a bargain!

Just three days of torture this week! Another well deserved vacation for all you "Brainies." It's Thanksgiving again—Hooray for the Pilgrims!

November 23: The CBS-KMOX news map and bulletin board is presented to Roosevelt High! On the board will be posted a news summary of current events.

November 24: The New Jays prove to us that they know something besides how to ask questions. Under the guidance of Miss Kelly, they present an aud. session in which they portray the festivals through the years which have a similarity to Thanksgiving. Mr. Hahnel and the orchestra present a brief musical program.

Another feature of the day is the turkey dinner served in the lunchroom for the nominal fee of fifteen cents!



November 25: What!! Another holiday. That's right! This time it's Thanksgiving, so let's give another cheer for our forefathers who made possible this occasion on which we can skip school with a clear conscience and sink our molars into a juicy hunk of turkey!

November 29: Gloom looms over Roosevelt when the announcement is made that the comprehensive tests will begin tomorrow, so get out those keys and wind up your rusty brains so that you'll BE ABLE TO PASS!

The Big Football Game of the season is held at Walsh Stadium between Beaumont and University City High School, on Thanksgiving Day. Beaumont won 25 to 8.

November 30-December 2: Groan-n-n-n, moan-n-n-n, oh-h-h, it can't happen here; but alas, it can. Comprehensives, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

November 30: We did it before and we now do it again! Yes, we again succeed in having at least ninety per cent participation in the sale of War Stamps and Bonds, therefore we may fly the "School-at-War Flag" over our school for another month.

Maybe seniors are proudly flashing their rings, but the teachers are flashing tests at the same time!

December 2: Some of the beautiful melodies of Beethoven, Bach, Gould, Mendelssohn, and Debussy fill our auditorium as the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra makes its annual visit to Roosevelt High. Even the most confirmed "jitter-bugs" must admit that the program under the direction of the conductor, Vladimir Golschmann, is very enjoyable. As an added feature, Mr. Golschmann explains the various instruments used by the orchestra and has each instrument demonstrated by one of the musicians.

An auditorium session is held for the freshmen of Roosevelt High at which Miss Grace speaks on the theater, Mr. Snider on social studies, and Harold Hopper, president of the sevens, on the importance of English.

December 2-3: "Hello, I'm Uno Who! Who are you?"

Every place you go you are besieged by a shower of greetings. Pep R gives its second annual "Hello Day" which is to be followed by a super-dance after school on Friday.

December 3: Yippee! Hurrah! Happy days are here again. No, school isn't out, but the comprehensives AT ROOSEVELT are over!

December 6: Today seems like the calm after the tempest. All the mid-term exams are now off of our dusty but usable brains. The sensation is wonderful!

Truthfully, though, they left things in a sort of whirl! If this keeps up for years to come, this might be known as the "cramming season."

December 7: The teachers attack the pupils on the second anniversary of Pearl Harbor by presenting report cards. Enough said!

December 9: An auditorium session is held for the freshmen of Roosevelt High at which several motion pictures on plant and animal life are shown. This aud. session is also open to the first period biology classes.

Citizenship Committee visits Beaumont.

December 10: The Boys' Glee Club under the direction of Miss Hilb presents a super-colossal Minstrel Show in the auditorium. The Carol Club, also under the direction of Miss Hilb, sang four delightful numbers. This aud., open to practically the entire student body, is enjoyed by all who attended.

Three cheers for Roosevelt's Basketball Team! The team, with thirty-seven points, beats McBride High School for its biggest victory this season.

December 13: Advisory groups turn in many beautiful Christmas stockings for the Service Men in the hospitals near St. Louis. I'd surely like to receive one myself!

December 14: An aud. session for everyone but the New Jays, this time! Miss Mills' and Miss Lancaster's classes give an interesting account of the ballad with Miss Hilb's A'Cappella Choir demonstrating.

December 15: Isn't it cold today!

December 16: If-I-Pass-If-I-Fail lists which begin to be circulated in our classes, make some of us wonder. Course-of-subject cards give our advisers another headache.

December 17: Our basketball players play Soldan at St. Louis U. High.

December 21: Stamps and bonds are sold today instead of on Tuesday. McKinley and Roosevelt clash.

December 23: Nominations for mayor made in Council today.

December 24: The members of Miss Hilb's choir present an aud. that is enjoyed by everyone. The Christmas spirit prevails, and everyone is in a festive mood.

December 25: All Rooseveltians receive a holiday from Santa Claus for Christmas. Yes—another year has just about passed and are all thinking of our Christmas dinner.

January 1: Welcome to the New Year. Again Old Father Time is laughed at by all of us as we look back over the past year.

January 7: Who are those little awe-stricken creatures which are stealing through the halls and staring at everyone? Why, they must be the boys and girls from the elementary schools who have come to visit us and make a tour of the building.

January 14: The "high and mighties" (Seniors to you) display their talents and show the school how not to act. The verdict—very amusing.

January 19: The de luxe Senior edition of RR comes out filled with pictures and stories of the outstanding Seniors.

January 24: Seniors splurge and treat themselves to a delicious luncheon and an enjoyable afternoon of dancing.

January 27: After four long and tedious years the day finally arrives—that all important day when all the beautiful and brainy Seniors graduate and turn over a new leaf in life.
